

GEOGRAPHY (GEOG)

GEOG 5330: Geographic Information Systems

Advanced principles of geographic information systems, including data capture, storage, processing, and output. Focus will be on applications to various problems in the natural and social sciences, including public administration and planning.

Prerequisite: CI.