Q37 Texas law permits abortion to save the life of the mother if the pregnancy is life-threatening or poses a serious risk to the mother's health. This "life of the mother" exception requires a licensed physician perform the abortion and the mother must have a life-threatening condition as determined by the physician, although death need not be imminent. Is this a reasonable protection for the mother or should abortion access be expanded?

Methodology

The UT-Tyler Poll is a statewide random sample of 1,154 registered voters conducted May 28 and June 7, 2025. The mixed-mode sample includes 278 registered voters surveyed over the phone by the University of Texas at Tyler with support from ProMark Research and 876 registered voters randomly selected from Dynata's panel of online respondents. The weighted margin of error for the sample of 1,154 registered voters in Texas is +/- 2.9 percentage points for a 95% confidence interval.

The online and phone surveys were conducted in English and Spanish. Using information from the 2024 Current Population Survey and Office of the Texas Secretary of State. The sample's gender, age, race/ethnicity, education, metropolitan density and vote choice were matched to the population of registered voters in Texas.
