1 Description

This course provides an introduction to the economics of health care. We will use economic analysis to study the structure and performance of the health care industry. In addition, we will review the basic institutional features of the US health care system. Finally, we will use the economic analysis and institutional knowledge to study and evaluate health care policy.

Course Learning Outcomes: At the completion of this course,

- i. The students will be familiar with the institutional features of the US health care system.
- ii. The students will have a better understanding of the structure and performance of the health care industry.
- iii. The students will be able to apply economic analysis to evaluate health care policy.

Program Outcomes: The material in this course contributes to the following program outcomes:

- i. The students will be able to apply economic analysis to study the structure and performance of markets.
- ii. The students will be able to apply economics analysis to understand and explain the effects of government policy.

The students will learn the material by attending lectures, reading the textbook, and completing a number of homework assignments. The comprehension of the material will be measured by the performance of the students on the homework assignments and examination.

2 Prerequisites

The only formal academic prerequisite for this course is a course in introductory microeconomics.

a. Textbook

The required textbook for the course is Health Economics, 1st Edition, by Bhattacharya, Hyde, and Tu (Bloomsbury Academic). This book will be the main source for the material in this course. This is a relatively non-technical book and contains good introductions and intuitive explanations for most of the material we will cover. You should know that some of the material in the course may not be in the textbook.

3 Structure of the course

I will dedicate as much time to the course as necessary. The material in the course is closely related to my research interests and I intend to make this course a fun and productive experience for you.

a. Lectures

A central element in the learning process is active participation by the students. Therefore, to promote active participation, my lectures will generally include:

- i. Presentation of technical material in which students participate in the derivation of the results and
- ii. Discussion of the results and implications for the real world.

The lectures will be more fun and productive if you have read the material ahead of time and come to class prepared to contribute to the discussion.

b. Grades

Your grade for the course will be determined by your performance in the class, as follows:

i. Examination

There will be one examination. Your performance on the examination will determine 30% of your grade. The examination will be in class and closed book, meaning that you may not consult the textbook or any other material and you may not communicate with other students while taking the exam.

ii. Homework

There will be a number of homework assignments during the semester. Your performance on the homework assignments will determine 30% of your grade. The homework assignments will consist of (a) reading-and-writing assignments, where you read an article and write a summary and reaction and

(b) empirical assignments, where you look up data on variables of interest and provide a summary and interpretation of the data.

iii. Research Paper

You are required to write a research paper on a topic related to the class and of interest to you. Your performance on the research paper will determine 30% of your grade. In addition, you are required to give a short presentation of your research paper in class. I will provide you with more information about the research paper later in the course.

iv. Attendance and Participation

Finally, attendance and participation will determine 10% of your grade. You are required to attend and participate in class because attendance and participation are essential if you want to do well in this class. For instance, I will cover material not contained in the textbook but that I may include in the homework or examination. In addition, the class will be based largely on discussion, intended to improve your ability to think logically and analytically.

Your grade for the class will be computed based on your overall performance using the standard scale:

A = 90%+	B = 80-89%	C = 70-79%	D = 60-69%	F = 59%–
----------	------------	------------	------------	----------

Table with Grade Policy

Examination	30%
Research Paper	30%
Homework	30%
Participation	10%

Important COVID-19 Information for Classrooms

Students are required to wear face masks covering their nose and mouth, and follow social distancing guidelines, at all times in public settings (including classrooms), as indicated in the Procedures for Fall 2020 Return to Normal Operations. The UT Tyler community of Patriots views adoption of these practices consistent with its Honor Code and a sign of good citizenship and respectful care of fellow classmates, faculty, and staff.

Students who are feeling ill or experiencing symptoms such as sneezing, coughing, or a higher than normal temperature will be excused from class and should stay at home and may join the class remotely. Students who have difficulty adhering to the safety policies for health reasons are also encouraged to join the class remotely. Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar. Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date). Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Social Security and FERPA Statement

It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.
