1 Description

This is a course in microeconomic analysis with applications to business analysis and strategy. The material in the course is generally referred to as “managerial economics” and will include basic optimization and analytical technics useful for understanding the behavior and performance of a business. The material to be covered includes a review of the analysis of perfectly competitive markets as well as the analysis of strategic behavior and imperfect competition. In addition, we will cover selected topics in business strategy and the economics of organization.

Learning Outcomes: At the completion of this course, the students will be able to

1. Apply the basic analytical techniques used in economic analysis, including optimization, game theory, and statistical analysis.
2. Describe the basic theory of consumer behavior, estimate a demand function, and use the demand function to make production and pricing decisions.
3. Explain the basic function of a business, estimate a cost function, and use the cost function to make production and pricing decisions.
4. Describe the different types of market structures and explain the basic relationship between market structure and prices, market shares, and profitability.
5. Describe and explain a number of business strategies, such as product differentiation, complementary products, and nonlinear prices, which can improve the performance of a business.

The students will learn the material by reading the textbook, attending the lectures, and completing a number of problem sets. The comprehension of the material will be measured by the performance of the students on the problem sets, quizzes, and examinations.

2 Prerequisites

The only formal academic prerequisite for this course is a course in introductory microeconomics. A course in calculus and a course in probability and statistics would be helpful, but are not required.

a. Textbook

The required textbook for the course is Baye and Prince, Managerial Economics and Business Strategy, 10th edition (McGraw-Hill). This book will be the main source for the material in this course. This is a relatively non-technical book and contains good introductions and intuitive explanations for much of the material we will cover.

b. Mathematics

I will present the material in a student-friendly form, which means simple models with simple functional forms. I believe you can obtain the intuition behind the phenomena from a simple model and understand that the results can be extended to more general formulations. Therefore, the only mathematics required for the course are algebra and elementary calculus, which I will review as needed.

3 Structure of the course

I will dedicate as much time to the course as necessary. The material in the course is closely related to my research and teaching interests and I intend to make this course a fun and productive experience for you.

a. Lectures

Research in Psychology has demonstrated that a central element in the learning process is active participation by the learner. I understand lectures can promote passive observation rather than active participation. Therefore, to promote active participation, my lectures will generally include:

- i. Presentation of technical material in which students participate in the derivation of the results,
- ii. Discussion of the results and implications for the real world, and
- iii. The opportunity for students to work in teams.

The lectures will be more fun and productive if you have read the material ahead of time and come to class prepared to contribute to the discussion.

b. Grades

Your grade for the course will be determined by your performance in the class, as follows:

i. Examination

There will be one examination. Your performance on the examination will determine 25% of your grade. The examination will consist of problems similar to the ones presented in class or in the homework.

ii. Quizzes

There will be a number of quizzes during the semester and your performance on the quizzes will determine 15% of your grade. For the quizzes, you will have access to your textbook and lecture notes. The quizzes are intended to make sure that you are reading the required material in your textbook.

iii. Homework

A number of homework assignments will be distributed during the semester and your performance on the homework will determine 20% of your grade. To obtain full credit in the homework, your work must be correct and must be turned in on time. You are encouraged to work with other students, but you should write and turn in your own homework.

iv. Research Paper

You are required to write a research paper, where you will analyze a business or industry of interest to you. Your performance on the research paper will determine 30% of your grade. I will provide you with more information about the research paper later in the course.

v. Attendance

Attendance and participation will determine 10% of your grade. You are required to attend and participate in class because attendance and participation are essential if you want to do well in this class. For instance, I will cover material not contained in the textbook but that I will include in the quizzes, homework assignments, and examinations.

Your grade for the class will be computed based on your overall performance using the standard scale:

A = 90%+	B = 80-89%	C = 70-79%	D = 60-69%	F = 59%–
----------	------------	------------	------------	----------

Table with Grade Policy

Research Paper	30%
Examination	25%
Homework	20%
Quizzes	15%
Attendance and Participation	10%

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

This section contains a number of university policies which you should be familiar with. Follow the links for additional information.

Withdrawing from Class

Students may withdraw (drop) from this course using the Withdrawal Portal. Withdrawing (dropping) this course can impact your Financial Aid, Scholarships, Veteran Benefits, Exemptions, Waivers, International Student Status, housing, and degree progress. Please speak with your instructors, consider your options, speak with your advisor, and visit the One-Stop Service Center (STE 230) or email enroll@uttyler.edu to get a complete review of your student account and the possible impacts to withdrawing. We want you to make an informed decision. UT Tyler faculty and staff are here for you and often can provide additional support options or assistance. Make sure to carefully read the implications for withdrawing from a course and the instructions on using the Withdrawal portal.

Texas law prohibits students from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career*. The six courses dropped includes those from other 2-year or 4-year Texas public colleges and universities. Consider the impact withdrawing from this class has on your academic progress and other areas, such as financial implications. We encourage you to consult your advisor(s) and Enrollment Services for additional guidance. CAUTION #1: Withdrawing before census day does not mean you get a full refund. Please see the Tuition and Fee Refund Schedule. CAUTION #2: All international students must check with the Office of International Programs before withdrawing. All international students are required to enroll full-time for fall and spring terms. CAUTION #3: All UT Tyler Athletes must check with the Athletic Academic Coordinator before withdrawing from a course. CAUTION #4: All veterans or military-affiliated students should consult with the Military and Veterans Success Center.

* Students who began college for the first time before 2007 are exempt from this law.

Artificial Intelligence Statement

UT Tyler is committed to exploring and using artificial intelligence (AI) tools as appropriate for the discipline and task undertaken. We encourage discussing AI tools' ethical, societal, philosophical, and disciplinary implications. All uses of AI should be acknowledged as this aligns with our commitment to honor and integrity, as noted in UT Tyler's Honor Code. Faculty and students must not use protected information, data, or copyrighted materials when using any AI tool. Additionally, users should be aware that AI tools rely on predictive models to generate content that may appear correct but is sometimes shown to be incomplete, inaccurate, taken without attribution from other sources, and/or biased. Consequently, an AI tool should not be considered a substitute for traditional approaches to research. You are ultimately responsible for the quality and content of the information you submit. Misusing AI tools that violate the guidelines specified for this course is considered a breach of academic integrity. The student will be subject to disciplinary actions as outlined in UT Tyler's Academic Integrity Policy.

In this course, you can use AI programs (such as ChatGPT or Copilot). These programs can be powerful tools for learning and other productive pursuits, including completing assignments in less time, helping you generate new ideas, or serving as a personalized learning tool. However, your ethical responsibilities as a student remain the same. You must follow UT Tyler's Honor Code and uphold the highest standards of academic honesty. This applies to all uncited or improperly cited content, whether created by a human or in collaboration with an AI tool. If you use an AI tool to develop content for an assignment, you must cite the tool's contribution to your work.

Final Exam Policy

Final examinations are administered as scheduled. If unusual circumstances require that special arrangements be made for an individual student or class, the Dean of the appropriate college, after consultation with the faculty member involved, may authorize an exception to the schedule. Faculty members must maintain student final examination papers for a minimum of three months following the examination date.

Incomplete Grade Policy

If a student, because of extenuating circumstances, is unable to complete all of the requirements for a course by the end of the semester, then the instructor may recommend an Incomplete (I) for the course. The "I" may be assigned in place of a grade only when all of the following conditions are met: (a) the student has been making satisfactory progress in the course; (b) the student is unable to complete all coursework or final exam due to unusual circumstances that are beyond personal control and are acceptable to the instructor, and (c) the student presents these reasons before the time that the final grade roster is due. The semester credit hours for an Incomplete will not be used to calculate the grade point average.

The student and the instructor must submit an Incomplete Form detailing the work required and the time by which the work must be completed to their respective department chair or college dean for approval. The time limit established must not exceed one year. Should the student fail to meet all of the work for the course within the time limit, then the instructor may assign zeros to the unfinished work, compute the course average for the student, and assign the appropriate grade. If a grade has yet to be assigned within one year, then the Incomplete will be changed to an F, or NC. If the course was initially taken under the CR/NC grading basis, this may adversely affect the student's academic standing.

Grade Appeal Policy

Disputes regarding grades must be initiated within sixty (60) days from the date of receiving the final course grade by filing a Grade Appeal Form with the instructor who assigned the grade. A grade appeal should be used when the student thinks the final course grade awarded does not reflect the grades earned on assessments or follow the grading scale as documented in the syllabus. The student should provide the rationale for the grade appeal and attach supporting document about the grades earned. The form should be sent via email to the faculty member who assigned the grade. The faculty member reviews the rationale and supporting documentation and completes the instruction section of the form. The instructor should return the form to the student, even if a grade change is made at this level. If the student is not satisfied with the decision, the student may appeal in writing to the Chairperson of the department from which the grade was issued. In situations where there is an allegation of capricious grading, discrimination, or unlawful actions, appeals may go beyond the Chairperson to the Dean or the Dean's designee of the college from which the grade was issued, with that decision being final. The Grade Appeal form is found in the Registrar's Form Library.

NOTE: The Grade Appeal Form is different from the Application for Appeal form submitted to the Student Appeals Committee, which does not rule on grade disputes as described in this policy.
