Course Purpose and Catalog Description

A study of public school finance, including budgeting and accounting, encompassing historical and current trends and legal issues. An in-depth examination of state school finance for educational leaders addressing legal issues and strategic planning that impact the operation of public schools will be addressed.

Course Eligibility

Admission to graduate school and superintendent program.

Course Rationale

School finance concerns the collection, distribution and use of money for the purpose of providing educational services and producing student achievement. Superintendents must have a basic understanding of the financing of public schools, including practical details of national and Texas finance systems, local tax support, Federal resources and execution of an annual expenditure and revenue budget and general business and accounting functions in order to be successful. They must be able to synthesize this knowledge within the context of equity issues, adequacy and productivity issues, including what is known through research about the linkages among dollars, educational strategies, and student performance.

Student Learning Outcomes

Program Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Act with integrity, fairness and in an ethical manner to promote success of all students.
2. Shape district culture by facilitating the development and implementation of a shared vision.
3. Communicate and collaborate with families and community, as well as respond to diverse interests and mobilize community resources.
4. Influence political and cultural context to achieve district's educational vision.

*Note: The above learner outcomes comprise Domain I of the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (195 Superintendent TExES) for superintendent certification.

- (a) Superintendent Certificate Standards. The knowledge and skills identified in this section must be used by an educator preparation program in the development of curricula and coursework and the State Board for Educator Certification as the basis for developing the examinations required to obtain the standard Superintendent Certificate. The standards also serve as the foundation for the individual assessment, professional growth plan, and continuing professional education activities required by §242.30 of this title (relating to Requirements to Renew the Standard Superintendent Certificate).
- (b) Learner-Centered Values and Ethics of Leadership. A superintendent is an educational leader who promotes the success of all students by acting with integrity, fairness, and in an ethical manner. A superintendent understands, values, and is able to:
- (1) model and promote the highest standard of conduct, ethical principles, and integrity in decision making, actions, and behaviors;
 - (2) implement policies and procedures that encourage all school district personnel to comply with Chapter 247 of this title (relating to Educators' Code of Ethics);
 - (3) serve as an articulate spokesperson for the importance of education in a free democratic society;
 - (4) enhance teaching and learning by participating in quality professional development activities, study of current professional literature and research, and interaction with the school district's staff and students;
 - (5) maintain personal physical and emotional wellness; and
 - (6) demonstrate the courage to be a champion for children.
- (c) Learner-Centered Leadership and School District Culture. A superintendent is an educational leader who promotes the success of all students and shapes school district culture by facilitating the development, articulation, implementation, and stewardship of a vision of learning that is shared and supported by the school community. A superintendent understands, values, and is able to:
- (1) establish and support a school district culture that promotes learning, high expectations, and academic rigor for self, student, and staff performance;
 - (2) facilitate the development and implementation of a shared vision that focuses on teaching and learning;
 - (3) implement strategies for the involvement of all stakeholders in the planning processes and facilitate planning between constituencies;
 - (4) conduct and analyze school district/campus climate inventories for effective and responsive decision making;

- (5) institute and monitor planning processes that include strategies designed to ensure the accomplishment of school district goals and objectives to achieve the school district's vision;
- (6) facilitate the use and allocation of all available resources to support the implementation of the school district's vision and goals;
- (7) recognize and celebrate contributions of staff and community toward realization of the school district's vision;
- (8) demonstrate an awareness of emerging issues and trends affecting the education community;
- (9) encourage and model innovative thinking and risk taking and view problems as learning opportunities; and
- (10) promote multicultural awareness, gender sensitivity, and the appreciation of diversity in the education community.

(d) Learner-Centered Human Resources Leadership and Management. A superintendent is an educational leader who promotes the success of all students by implementing a staff evaluation and development system to improve the performance of all staff members, selects and implements appropriate models for supervision and staff development, and applies the legal requirements for personnel management. A superintendent understands, values, and is able to:

- (1) develop, implement, and evaluate a comprehensive professional development plan designed specifically to address areas of identified school district, campus, and/or staff need;
- (2) facilitate the application of adult learning principles to all professional development activities, including the use of relevant issues and tasks and the use of support and follow-up strategies to facilitate implementation;
- (3) implement strategies to enhance professional capabilities at the school district and campus level to ensure support for a continuum of services and programming;
- (4) deliver effective presentations and facilitate the learning of both small and large groups;
- (5) implement effective strategies for the recruitment, selection, induction, development, and promotion of staff;
- (6) develop and institute comprehensive staff evaluation models appropriate to the position held that include both formative and summative assessment and appraisal strategies;
- (7) demonstrate use of school district and staff evaluation data for personnel policy development and decision making;

- (8) demonstrate and apply knowledge of certification requirements and standards; and
- (9) diagnose and improve organizational health/morale by the implementation of strategies and programs designed to provide on-going assistance and support to personnel.

(e) Learner-Centered Policy and Governance. A superintendent is an educational leader who promotes the success of all students by understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context and by working with the board of trustees to define mutual expectations, policies, and standards. A superintendent understands, values, and is able to:

- (1) define and apply the general characteristics of internal and external political systems to the educational organization;
- (2) demonstrate and apply appropriate knowledge of legal issues affecting education;
- (3) provide leadership in defining superintendent and board of trustees roles, mutual expectations, and effective superintendent-board of trustees working relationships;
- (4) determine the political, economic, and social aspects and/or needs of groups in the community, and those of the community at large, for effective and responsive decision making;
- (5) prepare and recommend school district policies to improve student learning and school district performance in compliance with state and federal requirements;
- (6) use legal systems to protect the rights of students and staff and to improve learning opportunities;
- (7) apply laws, policies, and procedures fairly, wisely, and considerately; and
- (8) access state and national political systems to provide input on critical educational issues.

(f) Learner-Centered Communications and Community Relations. A superintendent is an educational leader who promotes the success of all students by collaborating with families and community members, responding to diverse community interests and needs, and mobilizing community resources. A superintendent understands, values, and is able to:

- (1) develop and implement an effective and comprehensive school district internal and external communications plan and public relations program;
- (2) analyze community and school district structures and identify major opinion leaders and their relationships to school district goals and programs;

- (3) establish partnerships with parents, area businesses, institutions of higher education, and community groups to strengthen programs and support school district goals;
 - (4) implement effective strategies to systematically communicate with and gather input from all stakeholders in the school district;
 - (5) communicate effectively with all social, cultural, ethnic, and racial groups in the school district and community;
 - (6) develop and use formal and informal techniques to obtain accurate perceptions of the school district staff, parents, and community;
 - (7) use effective consensus-building and conflict-management skills;
 - (8) articulate the school district's vision and priorities to the community and to the media;
 - (9) influence the media by using proactive communication strategies that serve to enhance and promote the school district's vision;
 - (10) communicate an articulate position on educational issues; and
 - (11) demonstrate effective and forceful writing, speaking, and active listening skills.
- (g) Learner-Centered Organizational Leadership and Management. A superintendent is an educational leader who promotes the success of all students by leadership and management of the organization, operations, and resources for a safe, efficient, and effective learning environment. A superintendent understands, values, and is able to:
- (1) implement appropriate management techniques and group processes to define roles, assign functions, delegate effectively, and determine accountability for goal attainment;
 - (2) implement processes for gathering, analyzing, and using data for informed decision making;
 - (3) frame, analyze, and resolve problems using appropriate problem-solving techniques and decision-making skills;
 - (4) develop, implement, and evaluate change processes for organizational effectiveness;
 - (5) implement strategies that enable the physical plant, equipment, and support systems to operate safely, efficiently, and effectively to maintain a conducive learning environment throughout the school district;
