COURSE POLICIES

It is my goal for each of you to benefit and grow professionally throughout this course. I believe in open communication so we can all learn from each other. You are expected to actively participate in our course activities so we may practice open dialogue. I also welcome you to visit with me in email, phone, or we can schedule a Zoom session. We can discuss the concept being discussed, your course performance, or anything else you would like.

Participation – Participation is critical to the success in this course and your doctoral studies. As doctoral students, you are expected to think critically while challenging your prior knowledge and beliefs to continue growing and developing as educators. However, as adults you are entitled to make choices regarding their actions but will be held responsible for those decisions. I expect students to complete all assignments, whether graded or not, and to participate in all group discussion sessions on time. The purpose of discussion activities is to engage in conversation with our colleagues, hence, no credit will be awarded for late discussion posts – no exceptions. I understand life happens but missing a discussion and posting after the group has concluded the discussion will not elicit further discussion, defeating the purpose of the task.

Participation Expectations

You will document your participation in various ways in this course. You will engage in our online discussions of the readings. Make sure you read throughout the week. If you wait until the weekends to do the work in our course, you will not be successful. The readings are just too dense for that.

NOTE: You should reserve Monday-Wednesday as your time to read the materials for the week. We will begin our conversations and discussions about the content from Thursday – Sunday. We will engage in the use of protocols to advance our conversations in a safe and supportive environment. Please plan accordingly.

Written Assignments, Quizzes & Exams

Written Assignments – Specific requirements and guidelines for all other written assignments will be distributed separately. In all cases, written assignments are expected to represent doctoral quality work and to meet the following minimal criteria:

- On Time
- Word-processed, double-spaced
- Free of typographical errors
- Content worthy of a doctoral student
- 7th edition APA formatting

All written assignments are to be completed in Microsoft Word and submitted in a timely manner. If you use another word processing software, you must submit the assignment as a pdf. Deadlines are provided in Canvas.

Please note that all written assignments must be submitted by midnight Central Standard Time on the due date.

Prepare your assignment using Microsoft Word. Name your assignment with YOUR NAME and the assignment (i.e. BouillionD_Connection_Paper.docx)

All written assignments should be submitted through the assignment link available in Canvas. If your web connection is down for some reason, please send me a text message to make arrangements to get the assignment submitted by the due date.

Late assignments will not be accepted unless you have made prior arrangement with Dr. Bouillion. Arrangements for late work will only be made in case of emergencies or due to health concerns.

Plagiarism is a serious academic offense. Please avoid the consequences of academic dishonesty by citing all sources that you use in your work. When you upload your work, Canvas will immediately process your work through Unicheck. You will immediately see the report. Use these reports to identify potential instances of plagiarism and address them before submitting your work. There is no written collaboration in this course. There will be no flexibility or exemptions; plagiarism will not be tolerated.

All written assignments as well as all quizzes and exams are individual assignments. Students may not collaborate on the individual assignments. Unauthorized collaboration is considered cheating and will be handled according to University Policies and the Students Standards of Academic Conduct.

Code of Conduct – I expect students in this course to conduct themselves as university students of graduate standing. I expect students to participate in class activities. I expect students to meet assigned deadlines. I expect students to behave in an academically honest manner. I reserve the right to penalize students who violate class policies.

Email – My email address is dbouillion@uttyler.edu. Please note that this is not a Patriots email address.

Cell Number – My cell phone number is 713.410.2922. Feel free to send me a text message. This is the fastest way to communicate with me.

I will make every effort to respond quickly to your communication needs. Communicating with you is a priority but I also want you to have realistic expectations in terms of a timely response. If it is a weekday and you haven't heard from me within 24 hours, I did not get your email and please send it again. If it is a weekend, please give me 36 hours to respond.

People First Language/Class Etiquette

Our language reflects our attitudes and beliefs. Always refer to persons, including people with disabilities, with respect. Degrading terminology will not be tolerated. In this class, we will strive to use "People First" language. "People First" language always refers to the person first and not as a label or a category. For example, refer to "a student with autism" not "an autistic child."

Safe Zone – I consider our online Canvas course shell to be a place where you will be treated with respect as a human being - regardless of gender, race, ethnicity, national origin, religious affiliation, sexual orientation, political beliefs, age, or ability. Additionally, diversity of thought is appreciated and encouraged, provided you can agree to disagree. It is my expectation that ALL students consider our online Canvas course shell a safe environment.

Digital Library Resources

Students enrolled in our doctoral program have online access to the UT Tyler Robert R. Muntz Library (<http://library.uttyler.edu>). Follow the link to the library, and then complete the instructions at those sites for accessing information from a distant site. Many of the database subscriptions funded by student fees give you access to full text journals that you will need for your review of the literature. If a specific journal is not available, Vandy Dubre will procure the article for you. Please take the time to update your account and get familiar with the resources available.
