Course Description. Field experience focused on addressing the literacy instruction needs of struggling readers and writers in PreK-12 clinical and/or classroom settings. Prerequisite: READ 5306.

READ 5307 builds on the knowledge, skills, and experiences gained in READ 5306, which is designed to prepare you for the supervised practicum. In this companion course, you will have an opportunity to apply what you learned about literacy assessment and instruction while working directly with school-aged children in real-world school settings.

Important Notes Re: Field-Based Practicum Requirements

The program emphasis on field work is consistent with The Texas Administrative Code, which stipulates that each certificate program provide a minimum of 360 hours (200 coursework and 160 hours of field) for the Reading Specialist¹ certificate. Following these guidelines and consistent with the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES) for the preparation of reading teachers and reading specialists we have designed this practicum so that students spend approximately 160 hours engaging in field work that focuses on the identification of reading and writing difficulties, the design, implementation, and evaluation of evidence-based literacy instruction aimed at addressing these difficulties among normally-developing as well as struggling readers and writers.

Our program emphasis on field-work is also consistent with the new International Literacy Association Standards (ILA, 2017), particularly Standard 7: Practicum/Clinical Experiences, which places particular emphasis on candidates' ability to apply theory and best practice in multiple supervised practicum/clinical experiences.

In addition to the instructional support and field coordination provided by the course instructor and the practicum coordinator that take place at the university level, the field practicum is supported by two additional interrelated structures. These include regular support provided by an assigned Site Supervisor, an experienced individual currently in the field with whom the Practicum Candidate apprentices, and by a university assigned Field Supervisor, a qualified educator who helps support and supervise the work of the practicum candidate throughout the practicum experience.

To support candidate's field work, we have developed a Practicum Handbook, which provides more information about the graduate reading program and the field practicum, along with guidance on successfully completing course and practicum requirements. I will share a copy of the handbook and provide you with step-by-step guidance in completing this important field-based component of the program. I will also share a copy of the handbook with your Site Supervisor and university Field Supervisor who will be trained to assist with the implementation of the field practicum.

To facilitate and support your literacy coaching and mentoring, we will use the Studio Media Library on Canvas, an online coaching space that enables you to share your work with your site supervisor, field supervisor, course instructor and practicum coordinator who will review video-taped lessons, reflect on the type and quality of work completed, provide coaching and mentoring support, and reflect on progress made in light of the overall goals of the practicum. Finally, while most of the work completed in this course will be focused on coaching and supervising your work as a reading specialist, it will be supported by a few course lectures, projects, and assigned readings, most of which will be focused on effectively teaching essential elements of reading and differentiating instruction for normally developing students as well as students with special needs

- TAC § 241.10 (b). The Reading Specialist preparation program shall include a field-based practicum whereby candidates must demonstrate proficiency in each of the standards identified in § 42.15 this title.
- TAC 228.35 (b) an educator preparation program shall provide a candidate [for Reading Specialist] with a minimum of 200 clock hours of coursework that is directly aligned to the state standards.
- TAC 228.25 (c) (3) an educator preparation program shall provide a practicum ... for a minimum of 160 clock hours [for Reading Specialist]

(e.g., students suspected of having specific reading disabilities such as Dyslexia and English learners).

Knowledge Base(s) for This Course

This graduate level course builds upon the knowledge base and experiences gained in prior graduate coursework addressing language and literacy issues. The course addresses clinical and classroom aspects of literacy assessment and instruction. Emphasis will be placed on examining the causal factors, which inhibit the students' developmental processes of learning to read and write, and how an understanding of these factors enables a teacher to develop an effective program of instruction for all students, including those with language and learning challenges.

Course content incorporates the International Literacy Association Standards (ILA, 2017) as well as the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES) for the preparation of reading specialists (TEA, 2012). ILA Standards pertain primarily to Standard 2: Curriculum and Instruction, Standard 3: Assessment & Evaluation, Standard 5: Learners and the Literacy Environment, and Standard 7: Practicum/Clinical Experiences. TExES standards pertain primarily to Domain 1I: Assessment and Instruction, Domain 3: Strengths and Needs of Individual Students, and Domain 4: Professional knowledge and leadership.

Course content is grounded in literacy research, policy, and effective practices (e.g., Bell & McCallum, 2008; Gay, 2000; NICHD, 2000, Snow, Griffin, & Burns, 2005) that identify the knowledge, skills, and dispositions expected of effective reading professionals. Course content is further guided by the following state and national standards:

1. International Literacy Association (ILA, 2017) Standards for the Preparation of Reading Professionals, with a specific focus on Standard 2: Curriculum and Instruction, Standard 3: Assessment & Evaluation, Standard 5: Learners and the Literacy Environment, and Standard 7: Practicum/Clinical Experiences.
2. Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES, 2012) Standards for the Preparation of Reading Specialists, with a focus on Standard II: Assessment and Instruction, Standard III: Strengths and Needs of Individual Students, and Standard IV: Professional knowledge and leadership.
3. Texas Educator Standards (2016) Title 19: Chapter 149, Subchapter AA, Rule: 149.1001, which delineate the performance criteria to be used to inform the training, appraisal, and professional development of teachers. Standards pertaining specifically to this course include Standard 1: Instructional Planning and Delivery, Standard 3: Content Knowledge and Expertise, and Standard 5: Data-Driven Practice.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs): Upon successful completion of the requirements of this course, students will be able to:

1. Develop an understanding of literacy assessment as an on-going and essential part of reflective literacy instruction. (Service Learning)
2. Expand knowledge about the types, characteristics, and applications of commonly used and evolving literacy assessment and instruction approaches, measures, and practices. (Service Learning)
3. Develop expertise in identifying students' literacy needs, and using that information for planning, implementing, and evaluating evidence-based literacy interventions to address those needs. (Service Learning)

4. Develop knowledge and skill in identifying and addressing the literacy needs of students with diverse social, cultural, linguistic, and literacy learning needs, including English learners and students suspected of having learning needs such as dyslexia. (Service Learning)
5. Gain knowledge and skill in communicating literacy assessment and instruction results to students, parents, school administrators, and the public. (Service Learning)

COURSE EVALUATION AND REQUIREMENT DESCRIPTION

Performance Assessments

Grading is based on the total number of points accumulated by each student at the end of the semester for all evaluations including exams, assignments, projects, and class activities.

The projects and assignments outlined below are designed to contribute in different but complementary ways to your knowledge and experiences in determining students' literacy strengths and needs and designing evidence-based instruction aimed at addressing those needs in clinical and school settings.

Important Note about Assigned Readings

Each lecture has a set of readings to support the learning outcomes for that lecture and associated course objectives. The volume of assigned readings will depend on the nature of the topics addressed in each lecture. Some of the readings will be selected from course textbooks; others will be selected from articles and related materials. Please note that given the vast amount of information available in the area of K-12 literacy assessment and instruction, I will not have enough class time to “cover” all of the readings assigned. Consequently, I ask that you COMPLETE ALL ASSIGNED READINGS, and be prepared to discuss them with classmates via discussion forums. All assigned readings are important for successfully completing class activities, assignments, and project.

1. Class Participation & Discussions (10 points or 10% of course grade). Throughout the semester, you will be expected to engage individually or in small groups in practicum-related readings and assignments and/or activities that will help promote and support your work in identifying student strengths and needs; in designing, implementing, and evaluating evidence-based literacy assessment and instruction; and in engaging in leadership actions and practices within your classrooms, schools, and/or districts.

Active participation entails making sustained and substantive contributions by completing assigned readings, asking critical questions, collaborating with peers, and exploring implications and applications of knowledge gained for your own professional work. Your synchronous and asynchronous discussion responses will be evaluated on the level of engagement (how thorough and detailed your contributions are), the quality of the contributions made (how thoughtful and substantive your contributions are), and the professionalism you exhibit when responding to assigned discussion topics or issues (how respectful and considerate you are to peers). The following criteria will be used to evaluate your class participation and engagement.

- At minimum, you should post one original response and two responses to peers’ posts.
- Original responses should be at least 250 words in length and should present your thoughts in an organized and well-written manner.
- Responses to peers should be at least 75 words in length and contribute substantively to the conversation.

2. Poll & Post (5 points or 5% of course grade)

Poll & Post Description — During the first week of class you will participate in a survey to discuss your thoughts about a particular topic that will be addressed throughout the course. At an appropriate time, you will complete a post assignment that specifically addresses the same topic. (Poll = 1 point and Post = 4 points)

3. Dyslexia Book Study (5 points or 5% of course grade). For this dyslexia book study you will read: Shaywitz, S. (2020) Overcoming dyslexia: A new and complete science-based program for reading problems at any level. New York, NY: Vintage Books. The author of this book goes into sufficient depth, unattainable in an article that can help you turn up the heat under some aspect regarding dyslexia characteristics, dyslexia identification practices and policies, and effective instruction for students with dyslexia..

- Week 5: You will have your book and begin to read it.
- Week 7: (1 point) You will join a whole class discussion forum in Canvas and provide an initial reaction to your book. This discussion post will include:
 - What are your initial thoughts, opinions, and questions you have about dyslexia.
 - Comment: Get around to at least two other people and leave a collegial note for them regarding their book selection.
- Week 10: (4 points) You will again join a whole class discussion forum in Canvas. By this time, you will have finished your book. In this week's post, address the following prompts that tie back in with the course's learning objectives.
 - Give examples of how has this book contributed to your understanding of the characteristics and identification of dyslexia.
 - Give examples of how has this book contributed to your understanding of historical and current research, policy, and practice related to dyslexia and literacy development.
 - Give examples of how has this book contributed to your ability to critically examine ways in which you can provide effective, multisensory strategies for teaching students with dyslexia.
 - Give examples of how has this book contributed to your ability to make changes to your own thinking and practice as an educator? Be specific.
 - Comment: Get around to at least two other people and leave a collegial note for them regarding their book selection.

4. Service-Learning Field Reflection Log (5 Logs @ 2 points each = 10 points). This field-based course is designed as a service-learning course. Throughout the semester you will be assessing, teaching, and progress monitoring a student or small group of students that are struggling in their literacy development in some way. Through this work you will be serving the needs of the student(s) that you are working with while also learning effective literacy assessment and literacy instruction/intervention methods at the same time. The Literacy Instruction Field Practicum Report will serve as a culminating project of what you have learned throughout READ 5306 and READ 5307. (See #5 below for project details.)

Specifically, you will start working with your student(s) for a period of 12 weeks starting on or about the second week of class, and ending on or about the 14th week of the semester or after you have completed about 24 hours of instruction—assuming an average of 2.5 to 3.0 hours per week for 12 weeks. Be prepared to complete pre-assessments (e.g., PAST) during the second week of the semester, implement your evidence-based instructional/intervention plan during the third through the thirteenth week, and complete post-assessments (same measures as in pre-assessment) during the 13th or 14th week of the semester.

An important aspect of service-learning is reflection. For this assignment you need to post a Service Learning Reflection Log for 5 weeks starting the fourth week of the semester and ending the 11th week of the semester regarding the work that you are completing with the student(s). You will specifically include a running log of the days & times that you worked with the student(s) each week, and briefly answer questions a-e below with questions f-h being optional.(Also remember to log all of your tutoring times on the TEA timelog.)

- a. How effective was your instruction during this week's lessons? Explain.
- b. What was your strength as a teacher this week?
- c. How is/are your student(s) responding to your instruction? Explain.
- d. What do you need to do differently? Why?
- e. What is your next instructional step? Explain.
- f. What concerns you? Explain.
- g. What questions do you have?
- h. How can the practicum team support you during this field experience?

5. Critical Examination of Teaching (10 points or 10% of course grade)

An important part of being an effective teacher is being able to critically examine and reflect on your teaching. Go back and rewatch all your videotaped tutoring lessons. Critically examine the effectiveness of your teaching from the first video to the last video. Answer the questions below.

1. How did your teaching approach evolve from the first video-taped literacy tutoring lesson to the last? What specific changes did you make in your instructional strategies or techniques?
2. In what ways did your understanding of your student's needs and learning style deepen over the course of the tutoring sessions? How did this understanding impact your teaching methods?
3. Reflecting on the first to the last video-taped lessons, what aspects of your teaching were most effective in promoting literacy development? How did you build upon these strengths throughout the tutoring process?
4. Were there any challenges or obstacles that you encountered during the tutoring sessions? How did you address these challenges, and what strategies did you employ to overcome them?
5. Compare the level of student engagement and participation in the first to the last tutoring sessions. How did your instructional approach contribute to fostering a more interactive and dynamic learning environment over time?
6. How did your use of instructional materials and resources change throughout the tutoring process? Did you discover any new tools or techniques that were particularly effective in supporting literacy skill development?
7. Reflect on your communication and rapport-building strategies with the student. In what ways did your relationship with the student evolve over the course of the tutoring sessions, and how did this impact the effectiveness of your teaching?
8. Consider the feedback and observations provided by mentors, peers, or supervisors throughout the tutoring process. How did you incorporate this feedback into your teaching practice, and what insights did you gain from external perspectives?

9. Reflect on the overall growth and progress made by the student from the first to the last video-taped lesson. What specific literacy skills or areas of improvement were most notable, and how do you attribute this progress to your teaching efforts?
10. Looking ahead, what lessons or insights have you gained from this tutoring experience that you will carry forward into your future as a reading specialist? How do you plan to continue refining and improving your instructional practices based on these reflections?

6. Project: Literacy Instruction Field Practicum Report (QEP) (50 points or 50% of course grade). In this field practicum assignment, you will have an opportunity to apply what you learn about literacy assessment, instruction, and leadership in a real-world school setting. Consistent with TEA rules and guidelines, the field practicum will require you to spend 160 hours engaged in work designed to strengthen your knowledge, skills, and dispositions with regard to (a) identification of students' literacy strengths and needs; (b) design, implementation, and evaluation of evidence-based literacy instruction; and (c) engaging in professional learning and leadership activities aimed at strengthening instructional practices and improving student's literacy achievement outcomes within your classrooms, schools, and/or districts. The field work completed in READ 5306, which was designed to prepare you for this field practicum will count toward the 160 hours of field work. Throughout the field practicum, you will have an opportunity to gain practical experience and skill in:

- a. (READ 5306) Identify a child (or a small group of K-12 children) underperforming in the areas of reading and/or writing.
- b. (READ 5306) Assessing the literacy strengths and needs of students in classroom, small group, and/or one-on-one settings.
- c. (READ 5306) Developing a literacy instruction plan aimed at addressing identified literacy needs.
- d. Implementing the literacy instruction plan as envisioned.
- e. Writing a report summarizing the outcomes of instruction and potentially the impact on student achievement and on your professional learning.
- f. Sharing your findings with fellow teachers, school leaders, and parents.

Specific details about when the field work starts, what it will entail, and how it will be implemented will be provided. Needless to say, you will be provided with guidance and assistance when determining students' literacy strengths and needs, planning and delivering instruction pertaining to the needs identified, showcasing your field work, and writing a report summarizing the findings of your literacy field work.

To provide you with mentoring and coaching support, TEA requires that you have three formal "interactions" with field supervisor throughout the practicum period: One during the first third of the semester (Mid-February), one during the second third of the semester, (Mid-March) and one during the last third of the semester (Mid-April). During these three interactions, you will have an opportunity to engage in the following activities:

- (a) Pre-conference. During this initial pre-conference to be arranged individually with your site supervisor (in school) and field supervisor (to be arranged online or in person), you will have an opportunity to discuss your plans for field-work, which includes taping three 45-minute videos of your field work at designated times during the practicum period.

You will then post taped videos via Canvas to be viewed by your field supervisor. Please note that your site supervisor will not have access to your posted videos via Canvas, but your field supervisor will have access to the Canvas videos.

- (b) Observation. Your field supervisor will have an opportunity to view your taped 45-minute videos, provide feedback, and complete an evaluation form documenting your work. Note: Per TEA rules, the videotaped lessons must be at least 45 minutes in length.
- (c) Post-Conference. During this time, you will have an opportunity to conference again with your field supervisor, who will share outcomes of their evaluation of your taped lessons, and offer guidance, mentoring and coaching as needed.

PEER CRITIQUE (5 points): You will also participate in peer review/critique of your implemented instruction/intervention lesson. Following your first videotaped tutorial lesson, you will share your videotaped lesson with your peer group and identify a segment of the lesson to focus attention on in order to receive feedback from your peers regarding your pedagogical practices. For example “Please watch from minute 20 to minute 30 and let me know how my book introduction went.” Likewise, you will view/critique identified clips of your peers videotaped lessons to provide your own feedback regarding your peers pedagogical processes. (Peer groups will be assigned by the course instructor.)

Please note that (a) your course instructor and practicum coordinator will view your taped videos and provide guidance and support as well throughout the practicum period; and (b) consistent with TEA guidelines, we will be maintaining verification of work related to your field practicum, which must be documented and made available for compliance audit purposes. More information about the requirements for the field practicum will be provided via lectures and associated assignments, as well as in the Practicum Handbook, which will be made available to you, your site supervisor, and field supervisor.

7. Program Portfolio Artifact (QEP) (5 points)

Portfolio Artifact Description: This assignment is designed to assure that you successfully and competently build your Program Portfolio the goal of which is to show ways in which your work in this program has enabled you to provide evidence, aligned with state and national standards, of your preparation to become a literacy leader. As you already know, the successful completion and presentation of your portfolio is a requirement for graduation from this program. Creating your portfolio will be an incremental process spanning the entirety of your time at UT Tyler. That is, this assignment is present in each course in your Master of Education in Reading program. In each course, including this one, you will (1) select your artifact from work already accomplished in this course this semester; (2) select an ILA national standard AND a TExES state standard for Reading Specialists about which this artifact is evidence of your mastery; (3) write your description of the course artifact; and (4) write your argument/rational for the course artifact.

PORTFOLIO NARRATIVE DIRECTIONS - You will write an entry, accounting for your COURSE ARTIFACT assignment, for your end-of Program Portfolio. You will write two dense (at least 6 sentences each), well-written paragraphs:

- 1: DESCRIPTION of the COURSE ARTIFACT assignment and how YOU completed it. (One Paragraph)

2: ARGUMENT/RATIONALE for the inclusion of your COURSE ARTIFACT as EVIDENCE of you meeting one of the ILA Standards (1-7) and one of the TExES Standards (I-IV). In other words, what standards and why (how) does your COURSE ARTIFACT PROVE that you are competent in the chosen standards? Provide specific evidence from your project in support of your argument for why various aspects prove your competency. Directly tie your argument/rationale back to the ILA and TExES Standards. (One Paragraph)

Evaluation and Grading Guidelines and Criteria: All written work should be typed (single-spaced, using 12 pt. New Times Roman font, one-inch margins, & page numbers), properly labeled, and carefully proofread and edited. Use APA style when citing references used in your work. The criteria for determining your final grade are outlined below.
