CONTENT WARNING

This course will increase your awareness and convey information to help you in developing knowledge about the impact of psychological trauma. It is very possible that you, someone you know, or any of your classmates have survived very significant crises or traumas in their lives. You are alerted that the nature of this course involves graphic discussions of many topics that can be stressful and distressing including, but not limited to abuse, rape, suicide, homicide, addictions, disordered eating, violence, racism, sexism, and assorted other issues related to the class topic. Content may be provided via film, lectures, video, discussion, or other media presentations. Some of the lectures, media presentations, and discussions may have a strong emotional impact on you. This course is not intended to facilitate the exploration and healing of trauma for individual students in the class, although it is possible that experiences you have had maybe recalled and thus be felt more deeply because of the content of this course. If you experience distress you may discuss concerns with the instructor or visit The UT Tyler Student Counseling Center or some other associated support resource. I encourage the use of self-care strategies both during and after this course.

TEACHING STRATEGIES

This is a face-to-face course. There are weekly mandatory class meetings with the instructor, and you are expected to attend all classes as outlined in the course schedule. Traditional instruction allows for approximately 42 hours of in-class time and an equal amount of time for homework, readings, and assignments. Therefore, the course is designed to require approximately 84 hours of clock time to complete. The course is set up in 12 weekly learning units that equate to approximately 7 hours of classwork (lectures, activities, homework, readings) per week.

CANVAS (<https://www.uttyler.edu/canvas/>)

Canvas will serve as the overall structure and launching pad for all our activities in this course. In Canvas, you will find announcements, assignments, course schedules, links to outside activities, and so on. Within each module folder, the activities necessary to successfully complete that module are described in detail. Take care to examine the module and get in touch with me if you are not clear about the requirements.

COURSE POLICIES AND REQUIREMENTS

INFORMED CONSENT STATEMENT

Faculty members are dedicated to the educational, personal, and professional growth and development of our students. Faculty are in a unique position as instructors who assess students' academic skills and members of the counseling profession with an ethical obligation to the profession. In both roles, it is the faculty's responsibility to evaluate student competencies within the realm of professional counseling and to address any concerns regarding students' professional competence. As such, please be aware of the following information regarding this course:

- The counseling profession encourages counselors to fully integrate their own personal attributes and identity, as well as their strengths and weaknesses, into therapeutic processes. Therefore, self-awareness is critical because this knowledge relates to being an effective therapist.

- There will be an emphasis in many courses on self-awareness/exploration, as well as giving feedback to peers. Although uncomfortable at times, we encourage students to be open to self-exploration since we frequently ask clients to do so.
- At times, the class may include experiential and self-awareness exercises. It is important to distinguish between sharing one's emotional reactions to such experiential class activities and revealing information about one's personal history. Self-disclosure of personal history is not required to successfully pass any course; however, students may be expected to share their reactions to experiential activities.
- Self-disclosures will not be used as a basis for grading in any course. However, should a student disclose information indicating impairment or the potential for harm to clients, the faculty member may take appropriate action in accordance with the ACA Code of Ethics (2014).
- Students often experience personal growth as they progress through the program. However, the courses are not meant to be a means of personal therapy. The focus in classes is on self-awareness and the enhancement and growth of necessary counselor skills.
- Please be aware that, although all instructors strive to create a safe environment for any personal disclosures, we cannot guarantee that other students will maintain the confidentiality of any such disclosures that are made.
- It is each student's responsibility to determine an appropriate level of self-disclosure (i.e., the content and depth of personal information that you share) in experiential learning activities.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Student attendance is critical in this course. It is expected that students attend all classes. If there is an extenuating circumstance or emergency that will require you to miss a class, you should notify the professor ahead of time. You may then be asked to write a letter, and/or provide documentation that substantiates the extenuating circumstances which prevented you from coming to class. The instructor will then decide if the absence is excusable. In case of one missed excused class students will not lose participation and professionalism points. After the first excused missed class, for each missed class students will lose 10 points from their overall grade. In case of one missed unexcused class students will lose half of the participation and professionalism points. After the first unexcused missed class, along with missing half of participation and professionalism points, for each missed class students will lose an additional 10 points from their overall grade. All absences must be discussed with the instructor before the class is missed. In case the student misses a class without notifying the instructor before, the student will lose all participation and professionalism points. Missing more than one class may result in an "IP" or "NC" for the class unless otherwise determined by the instructor.

CLASS PUNCTUALITY

Students are expected to attend classes on time. Students who are consistently late at the beginning of class will have points deducted from their participation grade. Late behavior in more than one class will result in a drop in participation and professionalism points for each incident.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

All students taking this course should have access to a computer with an internet connection that can support the use of Canvas. If you are having trouble logging onto Canvas or uploading assignments, please contact the Canvas helpdesk at (903)566-7439 or email them at itsupport@patriots.utt Tyler.edu. If you are having technical difficulties, please alert the professor as soon as possible.

All submissions for this course will be online via Canvas. Do not wait until the last minute to submit your assignments as this is a sure way to ensure you will have technical difficulties (remember Murphy's law).

Cell phones are to be turned off or put in silent mode during class. Cell phones should not be visible during class, so please keep them in your purse, backpack, etc. Students who choose to use a laptop computer should only do so for taking notes. Students who use laptop computers are prohibited from (a) surfing the internet, (b) checking email, and (c) working on other assignments during class.

PATRIOT E-MAIL

University policy requires that all e-mail correspondence between students and instructor be done via the Patriot account ONLY. Check your Patriot E-Mail frequently. Announcements pertaining to class or departmental business will be sent to the student's Patriot account. ONLINE COMMUNICATION

All written communication that takes place within this course must adhere to the rules of written etiquette. Please remember that you are in a graduate program and are earning a professional degree, therefore please respond to your instructor and your colleagues in a professional manner. Please refrain from using texting language (i.e. lol, btw, omg) and/or emoticons (i.e. :- / ,':-)) in your discussion responses and in communication with your instructor and colleagues. Other things to keep in mind:

- Open your email with a salutation (e.g., Hi, Hello, Dear Dr. or Ms. X) and finish with a closing (e.g., Best, Regards, Thank you, your name). Introductory emails should address your instructor more formally (Dr. Grad).
- Use complete sentences and avoid jargon, especially text-type words (e.g., C U). This is especially important when sending messages from mobile devices.
- Be aware that using capital letters to express yourself is considered SHOUTING.
- Maintain a professional tone.
- Avoid sending email in anger or frustration. Walk away from the computer and wait at least 24 hours.
- Whether in writing or in person, derogatory or prejudiced remarks are still considered bad manners and discussion that contains such comments will be addressed by the instructor.
- Please refrain from sending junk mail, forwards, or advertisements to the class via Canvas.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Students are expected to be sensitive to individual and multicultural differences and to treat one another with respect during their experience in this course. Sensitivity to gender/race/ethnicity/ability/sexuality is expected and disrespectful language and/or behavior will not be tolerated. The American Counseling Association has explicit policies, standards, and ethical guidelines regarding diversity issues. In this class, you will be expected to reflect the standards and ethics of the counseling profession, especially in the area of diversity. Any use of written or verbal language should be consistent with the respect and tolerance that are the cornerstone of the counseling profession and should reflect the ACA Human Rights Committee's 1987 statement on tolerance, which states: In order to guarantee that each individual is free to pursue their potential, each member of ACA is charged to (a) engage in ongoing examination of his/her own attitudes, feelings, stereotypic views, perceptions and behaviors that might have prejudicial or limiting impact on others; (b) contribute to an increased sensitivity on the part of other individuals, groups or institutions to the barriers to opportunity imposed by discrimination; (c) advocate equal rights for all individuals through concerted personal, professional, and political activity.

COVID-19 RELATED ISSUES

The University of Texas at Tyler strongly encourages our campus community to take the necessary preventative measures to ensure health and safety. In addition to wearing a mask when appropriate, social distancing when possible, covering coughs and sneezes, and practicing good hand hygiene, the COVID-19 vaccine is a protective measure to prevent severe illness due to COVID-19. You can contact your healthcare provider or local pharmacy to schedule a COVID-19 vaccine.

Stay home and contact your professors or supervisors if you do not feel well or have symptoms so that you do not risk exposing others. As a student, you are responsible for informing your faculty of absences due to COVID-19. Regardless of your vaccination status, stay home and follow the CDC guidelines.

COURSE FEEDBACK AND EVALUATION

Your constructive assessment of this course plays an indispensable role in shaping education at the University of Texas at Tyler. Upon completing the course, please take time to fill out the online course evaluation.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

- Participation/Professionalism (10 points)
Learning/teaching is a dynamic/social process. In this class, your presence and active engagement are essential. Students are required to read all assigned course materials before class begins so that they can actively engage with course content during class. Students are expected to regularly participate in class. Students are expected to attend classes on time. Participation in discussion and class activities is an important component of learning. Active, meaningful engagement with peers is expected. Texting, web surfing, and other activities that preclude the ability to be fully present with the class are strongly discouraged.

Professionalism represents a way of being made up of appearance, manner, communication, interaction, attitudes, approach, skills, and openness to feedback and growth. As part of this class, students are expected to demonstrate professionalism during in-person and online interactions with their peers and the instructor. Students are expected to be fully engaged in the topic of assessment, investing in your learning and the learning of others, and eager to participate. Concretely, active participation and professionalism means:

- Reading required materials and being prepared to work
 - Demonstrating knowledge of reading assignment material
 - Actively taking part in class activities
 - Interacting well with peers
 - Showing respect and courtesy toward peers and instructor
 - Exhibiting a professional demeanor in face to face and online classes
 - Actively engaging in learning opportunities
 - Demonstrating critical thinking knowledge and skills
 - Exhibiting growth in content knowledge and skills
 - Contributing to a professional climate
 - Confidentiality in managing personal information shared by peers.
 - Timeliness, attentiveness, and participation in all class meetings, assignments, and activities
 - Timely and respectful communication with faculty and colleagues
 - Willingness to deepen your self-awareness and growth
 - Responsibility for your wellness.
- Self-Care Plan and Journal (7.5 points each – 15 points total)
This assignment has 2 parts.
 - Part I – Self-Care Plan: During week 1, you will develop a self-care plan. The self-care plan will contain signals of yourself when you are in distress and a list of activities that you could do to de-stress.
 - Part II – Self-Care Journal: During our class, you will keep a journal that records your emotional responses to class readings, class content, and experiences, as well as how you carry out a self-care plan to manage your responses. You will modify your self-care plan as you gain more understanding of what works for you and what does not. In the end, you will submit a self-care journal.
 - Midterm Exam (25 points)
This exam will include multiple-choice questions. Content for the exam will be drawn from the in-class PowerPoint presentations as well as the assigned readings.
 - Online Training & Paper (15 points)
For this assignment, you will need to complete one module of online clinically focused trauma training. You may not count other previously completed training. The instructor will provide a list of free training available. After completion of the training, provide documentation that you completed the training and write a one-page single-spaced reflection paper.
 - Trauma Specialty Project (35 points total)
A central goal of this course is that the student begins to become comfortable with the practice and process of trauma work. To facilitate that goal, you will prepare a project to demonstrate your expertise in one specialty area of trauma counseling. Trauma topics: Combat-related trauma, Refugee related trauma (people fleeing war-torn countries), sexual abuse (family), sexual abuse (non-family), intimate partner violence, school shootings, Natural Disasters (Hurricanes, Floods, Wildfires, Earthquakes), Childhood Trauma, Elderly Abuse, Compassion Fatigue, Mass Shootings (ex. public shootings where average citizens are shot and/or killed), First Responder Trauma, Murders, etc. The types of projects include ONE of the 3 options below. You have 3 weeks to make your decision. Email me at rgrad@uttyler.edu by 9/14/2025 and mention which project you are choosing to do.
 - Conference Proposal/Presentation. You will propose and prepare a conference-level education session that is to be of professional conference caliber. Your proposal/session will focus on the effects of trauma and a specialized population of your choice. The assignment will be divided into three parts: (1) the proposal, (2) the presentation, and (3) a resource handout for conference participants.
 - Trauma Research Paper. A 12-15 page research paper reviewing the clinical and research literature on a specialty area of trauma counseling (see the above-listed topics). Your paper will focus on the effects of this specific trauma topic and the specialized population of your choice. You must include a minimum of 10 references related to your topic (journal articles, books, etc.). Your paper will follow APA guidelines and will consist of a title page, abstract/keywords, body (10-12 pages of the body), and references. Students will provide a comprehensive literature review on the specific trauma and/or stressor-related event. The literature review will include reports of contemporary treatment strategies with a presentation of the effectiveness of these strategies, and it should describe the current practices that have been shown to have efficacy in dealing with the trauma experience being described.

- A 20-30-minute student-produced video of instruction on how to conduct a specific type of trauma intervention.

I want to give students the freedom of expression in meeting this course requirement if your completed project demonstrates your acquisition of competency in one trauma specialty area. You are strongly encouraged to choose a marginalized population that you either work with or want to work with in the future. I highly encourage the students to take risks and have fun while approaching this part of the course. I also highly encourage students to talk with the instructor prior to the beginning of the project.

LATE ASSIGNMENT POLICY

The due dates for all assignments are listed in the Syllabus and on Canvas and must be completed by the date and time listed. You should plan to work on your assignments around your life and submit them earlier in the week if need be. All assignments submitted any time after their due date/time will be reduced by 10% per day they are late. In other words, one day late submitted exemplary assignment which would have been graded 100% will be graded as 90% and so forth. NO assignment will be accepted if submitted more than 3 days past the due date, and the student will receive a zero. It is the student's responsibility to communicate with the instructor to re-open the assignment for a late submission. CANVAS is the only method assignments are accepted (Email and hard copy are not accepted).

Oftentimes students wonder what constitutes a particular grade in the courses I teach. From my perspective, if a student has completed standard, average work on an assignment, then the work will receive a "B". A grade of "A" denotes exceptional work beyond the basic and/or minimal expectations.

Since this is graduate-level work, it is expected that students will hand in grammatically correct papers, have the correct spelling, and conform to the APA 7th edition guidelines. Do not, repeat, do not write papers as if talking to me, using common figures of speech. Writing is NOT talking, and it takes practice, patience, and intentionality to break this habit. On each written assignment I will deduct points from the final score based on writing and composition skills, and APA formatting. If you believe there are weak areas for you, please utilize the University Writing Center as they are more than prepared to help you with writing, composition, and research skills.

A grade of I (incomplete) is discouraged and is assigned at the discretion of the instructor, when illness, death in the immediate family, or other unusual and unforeseeable circumstances not encountered by the other students in the class prevent completion of the course requirements by the end of the semester (per UT Tyler Graduate School Guidelines). Under these circumstances, a grade of I may be assigned when all of the following conditions are met: (a) the student has been making satisfactory progress in the course; (b) the student is unable to complete all coursework or final exam due to unusual circumstances that are beyond personal control and are acceptable to the instructor, and (c) the student presents these reasons before the time that the final grade roster is due. The semester credit hours for an Incomplete will not be used to calculate the grade point average for a student.

*Final grades will be available on or after the date designated by the University. Please do not send grade inquiries to the professor before this date.

The Professional Dispositions component is not calculated in the final grade; however, the assessment is (1) part of the CMHC Committee's systematic student review and (2) will be included in the student's academic file.

Make sure to carefully read the implications for withdrawing from a course and the instructions on using the Withdrawal portal.

Texas law prohibits students from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career*. The six courses dropped include those from other 2-year or 4-year Texas public colleges and universities. Consider the impact withdrawing from this class has on your academic progress and other areas, such as financial implications. We encourage you to consult your advisor(s) and Enrollment Services for additional guidance. CAUTION #1: Withdrawing before census day does not mean you get a full refund. Please see the Tuition and Fee Refund Schedule. CAUTION #2: All international students must check with the Office of International Programs before withdrawing. ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE STATEMENT

UT Tyler is committed to exploring and using artificial intelligence (AI) tools as appropriate for the discipline and tasks undertaken. We encourage discussing AI tools' ethical, societal, philosophical, and disciplinary implications. All uses of AI should be acknowledged as this aligns with our commitment to honor and integrity, as noted in UT Tyler's Honor Code. Faculty and students must not use protected information, data, or copyrighted materials when using any AI tool. Additionally, users should be aware that AI tools rely on predictive models to generate content that may appear correct but is sometimes shown to be incomplete, inaccurate, taken without attribution from other sources, and/or biased. Consequently, an AI tool should not be considered a substitute for traditional research approaches. You are ultimately responsible for the quality and content of the information you submit. Misusing AI tools that violate the guidelines specified for this course (see below) is considered a breach of academic integrity. The student will be subject to disciplinary actions as outlined in the UT Tyler's Academic Integrity Policy. Artificial Intelligence is not permitted in this course at all. The work submitted by students in this course will be generated by themselves. This includes all process work, drafts, brainstorming artifacts, editing, and final products. This extends to group assignments where students must collaboratively create the project. Any instance of the following constitutes a violation of UT Tyler's Honor Code: a student has another person/entity do any portion of a graded assignment, which includes purchasing work from a company, hiring a person or company to complete an assignment or exam, using a previously submitted assignment and/or using AI tools (such as ChatGPT).

FINAL EXAM POLICY

Final examinations are administered as scheduled. If unusual circumstances require that special arrangements be made for an individual student or class, the Dean of the appropriate college, after consultation with the faculty member involved, may authorize an exception to the schedule. Faculty members must maintain student final examination papers for a minimum of three months following the examination date.

INCOMPLETE GRADE POLICY

If a student, because of extenuating circumstances, is unable to complete all of the requirements for a course by the end of the semester, then the instructor may recommend an Incomplete (I) for the course. The "I" may be assigned in place of a grade only when all of the following conditions are met: (a) the student has been making satisfactory progress in the course; (b) the student is unable to complete all coursework or final exam due to unusual circumstances that are beyond personal control and are acceptable to the instructor, and (c) the student presents these reasons before the time that the final grade roster is due. The semester credit hours for an Incomplete will not be used to calculate the grade point average.

The student and the instructor must submit an Incomplete Form detailing the work required and the time by which the work must be completed to their respective department chair or college dean for approval. The time limit established must not exceed one year. Should the student fail to meet all of the work for the course within the time limit, then the instructor may assign zeros to the unfinished work, compute the course average for the student, and assign the appropriate grade. If a grade has yet to be assigned within one year, then the Incomplete will be changed to an F, or NC. If the course was initially taken under the CR/NC grading basis, this may adversely affect the student's academic standing.

GRADE APPEAL POLICY

Disputes regarding grades must be initiated within sixty (60) days from the date of receiving the final course grade by filing a Grade Appeal Form with the instructor who assigned the grade. A grade appeal should be used when the student thinks the final course grade awarded does not reflect the grades earned on assessments or follow the grading scale as documented in the syllabus. The student should provide the rationale for the grade appeal and attach supporting documents about the grades earned. The form should be sent via email to the faculty member who assigned the grade. The faculty member reviews the rationale and supporting documentation and completes the instruction section of the form. The instructor should return the form to the student, even if a grade change is made at this level. If the student is not satisfied with the decision, the student may appeal in writing to the Chairperson of the department from which the grade was issued. In situations where there is an allegation of capricious grading, discrimination, or unlawful actions, appeals may go beyond the Chairperson to the Dean or the Dean's designee of the college from which the grade was issued, with that decision being final. The Grade Appeal form is found in the Registrar's Form Library.

NOTE: The Grade Appeal Form is different from the Application for Appeal form submitted to the Student Appeals Committee, which does not rule on grade disputes as described in this policy.
