TEACHING STRATEGIES

This is a face-to face course and in this course, we will utilize lecture, discussion, reading and writing assignments, and experiential activities. Self-reflection, self-evaluation, and offering and receiving feedback are also important instructional methods in this course.

Canvas (<https://www.uttyler.edu/canvas/>)

Canvas will serve as the overall structure and launching pad for all our activities in this course. In Canvas, you will find announcements, assignments, course schedule, discussion boards, links to outside activities and so on. Within each module folder, the activities necessary to successfully complete that module are described in great detail. It is students' responsibility to examine each module and get in touch with the instructor immediately if they are not clear about the requirements prior to assignment due dates.

Due to the nature of the course, students may experience mild to high levels of discomfort and lots of learning

edges while interacting with the course materials, assignments, fellow classmates, and the instructor. As an instructor of a course such as this, I may also experience mild to high anxiety. It's not unusual to have to debrief experiences and emotional reactions with someone professionally, be it positive or negative. However, I've learned to understand that such emotional responses are good indicators of personal and professional growth. I do hope, however, together we can create a conducive learning environment that is both challenging and nurturing so each of us can grow our:

- awareness of self and others,
- humility in listening to others, appreciating others, and recognizing our own shortcomings; and
- competence in helping and advocating for our clients, students, supervisees, and ourselves.

It is not the intent of this course to exhaustively cover all relevant topics within 13 weeks. However, it is the hope of the counseling program that this course will direct your journey with a clear focus and commitment to diversity and social justice as an integral part of your professional identity and aspiration. We hope that your growth in this area will continue throughout your program of study and extend into your career in the counseling profession.

COURSE POLICIES AND REQUIREMENTS

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Student attendance in this class is critical. It is expected that students will attend all classes. If there is an extenuating circumstance or emergency that will require you to miss a class, you should notify the professor ahead of time. You may then be asked to write a letter, and/or provide documentation that substantiates the extenuating circumstances which prevented you from coming to class. The instructor will then decide if the absence is excusable. In case of missed class students will lose participation and professionalism points. After the first excused missed class, along with missing participation and professionalism points, for each missed class students will lose additional 10 points from their final grade. All absences must be discussed with the instructor prior to the class missed. Missing more than one class may result in an "IP" or "NC" for the class unless otherwise determined by the instructor.

CLASS PUNCTUALITY

Students are expected to approach punctuality in the classroom as they would with a client in a counseling session. Essentially, students should be on time, including being seated and ready to engage in learning in a non-disruptive manner at the time class begins. Students who are consistently late at the beginning of class will have points deducted from their participation grade. Late behavior in excess of one class will result in a drop of attendance and participation points for each incident.

LATE POLICY

Assignments are expected to be turned into Canvas by the assigned due date. Technology failures will not be accepted as a reason for missed assignment due dates. Therefore, do not leave anything to the last minute. Back up files frequently and in various locations so work is not lost. Assignments turned in after the due date/time, up to two (2) calendar days, will be accepted with automatic deductions as follows:

- 24 hours or less late: automatic reduction in grade for assignment by 10%
- More than 24 hours late, but less than 48 hours late: automatic reduction in grade for assignment by 20%
- More than 48 hours late: automatic reduction in grade to 0 points.

ZOOM PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIORS

Students should attend online zoom synchronous classes in the same manner that they would attend in-person classes. Students should be professionally dressed and sitting in an appropriate position for learning. Students must keep their video cameras on for the entirety of class. Students are not permitted to be engaging in other activities while attending class (e.g., driving a car, working a job, attending an appointment, etc.). Students will need to find a quiet and private location in which to attend class. It is also essential that students are able to secure a good internet connection.

USE OF TECHNOLOGY

Cell phones are to be turned off or put in silent mode during class. Cell phones should not be visible during class, so please keep them in your pants, purse, backpack, etc. If you are experiencing an emergency or extenuating circumstance where you need to check your phone during class, please inform me of this before class begins. Please be respectful and do not send or read text messages during class. Students who choose to use a laptop computer should only do so for taking notes. Students who use laptop computers are prohibited from (a) surfing the internet, (b) checking email, and (c) working on other assignments during class. If the instructor becomes aware of a student using their laptop for any reason other than taking notes, they may ask that student to cease bringing their computer into the classroom.

Given the potential for discussion of sensitive content during class, recording of class is strictly prohibited except where accommodations are arranged through SAR. Additionally, students are strictly prohibited from going “live” on social media platforms such as TikTok during class. The ability to uphold confidentiality is a core tenet of professional counseling as supported by the ACA Code of Ethics. As a counselor-in-training, you are expected to demonstrate the ability to honor confidentiality.

COMMUNICATION POLICY

University policy requires that all e-mail correspondence between students and instructor be done via the Patriot account. Check your Patriot E-Mail frequently. Announcements pertaining to class or departmental business will be sent to the student’s Patriot account. In accordance with university policy your instructor will respond only to student correspondence sent via Patriot E-mail. Please do not contact the instructor via the Canvas messaging system. My email address is dsmedley@uttyler.edu. Do not send emails to any other email address, as I will not receive them.

ONLINE COMMUNICATION

Part of your preparation as a professional counselor is the ability to communicate with future colleagues and clients clearly and professionally. All written communication (e.g., emails, discussion board postings, etc.) that takes place within this course must adhere to the rules of written etiquette. Please remember that you are in a graduate program and are earning a professional degree, therefore please respond to your instructor and your colleagues in a professional manner. Please refrain from using texting language (i.e. lol, btw, omg) and/or emoticons (i.e. :- / , :- ) in your discussion responses and in communication with your instructor and colleagues. Other things to keep in mind:

- Open your email with a salutation (e.g., Hi, Hello, Dear Dr. or Ms. X) and finish with a closing (e.g., Best, Regards, Thank you, your name). Introductory emails should address your instructor more formally (e.g., Dear Dr. Smedley:).
- Use complete sentences and avoid jargon, especially text-type words (e.g. C U). This is especially important when sending messages from mobile devices.
- Be aware that using capital letters to express yourself is considered SHOUTING.
- Maintain a professional tone.
- Avoid sending email in anger or frustration. Walk away from the computer and wait at least 24 hours. Threats or attacks towards faculty or peers, even via written communication, will not be tolerated.
- Whether in writing or in person, derogatory or prejudiced remarks are still considered bad manners and discussion that contains such comments will be addressed by the instructor.
- Please refrain from sending junk mail, forwards, or advertisements to the class.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Students are expected to be sensitive to individual and cultural differences and to treat one another with respect during their experience in this course. Sensitivity to gender, race, ethnicity, ability, and sexuality is expected and disrespectful language and/or behavior will not be tolerated.

The American Counseling Association has explicit policies, standards, and ethical guidelines regarding diversity issues. In this class, you will be expected to reflect the standards and ethics of the counseling profession, especially in the area of diversity. Any use of written or verbal language should be consistent with the respect and tolerance that are the cornerstone of the counseling profession and should reflect the ACA Human Rights Committee's 1987 statement on tolerance, which states:

In order to guarantee that each individual is free to pursue his/her potential, each member of ACA is charged to (a) engage in ongoing examination of his/her own attitudes, feelings, stereotypic views, perceptions and behaviors that might have prejudicial or limiting impact on others; (b) contribute to an increased sensitivity on the part of other individuals, groups or institutions to the barriers to opportunity imposed by discrimination; (c) advocate equal rights for all individuals through concerted personal, professional, and political activity.

INFORMED CONSENT STATEMENT

Faculty members are dedicated to the educational, personal, and professional growth and development of our students. Faculty are in a unique position as both instructors who assess students' academic skills and members of the counseling profession with an ethical obligation to the profession. In both of these roles, it is the faculty's responsibility to evaluate student competencies within the realm of professional counseling and to address any concerns regarding students' professional competence. As such, please be aware of the following information regarding this course:

- The counseling profession encourages that counselors fully integrate their own personal attributes and identity, as well as their strengths and weaknesses, into therapeutic processes. Therefore, self-awareness is critical because this knowledge relates to being an effective therapist.
- There will be an emphasis in many courses on self-awareness/exploration, as well as giving feedback to peers. Although uncomfortable at times, we encourage students to be open to self-exploration, since we frequently ask clients to do so.
- At times, class may include experiential and self-awareness exercises. It is important to distinguish between sharing one's emotional reactions to such experiential class activities and revealing information about one's personal history. Self-disclosure of personal history is not required in order to successfully pass any course; however, students may be expected to share their reactions to experiential activities.
- Self-disclosures will not be used as a basis for grading in any course. However, should a student disclose information indicating impairment or the potential for harm to clients, the faculty member may take appropriate action in accordance with the ACA Code of Ethics (2014).
- Students often experience personal growth as they progress through the program. However, the courses are not meant to be a means of personal therapy. The focus in classes is on self-awareness and the enhancement and growth of necessary counselor skills.
- Please be aware that, although all instructors strive to create a safe environment for any personal disclosures, we cannot guarantee that other students will maintain the confidentiality of any such disclosures that are made.
- It is each student's responsibility to determine an appropriate level of self-disclosure (i.e., the content and depth of personal information that you share) in experiential learning activities.

COURSE FEEDBACK AND EVALUATION

Your constructive assessment of this course plays an indispensable role in shaping education at University of Texas at Tyler. Upon completing the course, please take time to fill out the online course evaluation.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

REFLECTIVE PROCESSING JOURNAL – 100 POINTS – Due weekly on Fridays by noon

Throughout the semester, students will write OR record a total of 10 reflective journal entries. The purpose of the journal entries is to offer students the opportunity to reflect on their experiences with textbook readings, in class discussions, and other content reviewed in this course. Each journal entry will have a specific topic to reflect on and may include some additional light content consumption (e.g., short articles, brief videos, etc.). The journal entries are only viewed by the instructor of record and should demonstrate introspection, professional development, and authenticity by the student. The journal entries should have all the characteristics in the proceeding sentence (i.e., introspective, insightful, and authentic). You may write OR video record your reflections. If you write the entries, they should be readable. There is no length or APA requirement, but they should meet graduate-level expectations. If you record, they should be clear and detailed. Recordings should be a length that sufficiently covers the required responses (likely about 5 minutes).

ACTION PLAN – 20 POINTS – Due on 6/6/2025 by noon

Connected to the service-learning project, students will turn in an action plan during week 4. The action plan should simply identify a specific advocacy program and clearly define goals and action steps indicating how the student will complete the assignment. There are 16 weeks this term, the onus is on you to begin the project as early as possible. Please keep the instructor informed should you run into any difficulties related to the project so we can problem solve as soon as possible.

CULTURAL IMMERSION ACTIVITY – 110 POINTS – Due on 7/25/2025 by noon

For this assignment, you are asked to purposely put yourself in a situation to encounter self-reflection and potential mild discomfort. Each student will engage in TWO cultural immersion activities to explore cultures different from their own and therefore, getting away from their familiar cultural element. Students may substitute ONE activity with a documentary; however, the documentary must be at least one-hour documentary AND approved by instructor prior to submitting the final assignment.

This experience should be focused on a cultural topic/issue distinctly different from the student's cultural values, norms, and personal experiences and should include student involvement. For example, if you visit a mosque, do not slip in after it has started, speak to no one, and then leave quickly. You should communicate with someone there. Additionally, as representatives of UT Tyler, counselors-in-training, and visitors of the immersive experience, it is expected that students will identify themselves as students, explain why they are visiting, and act with the utmost professionalism and respect. If faculty are made aware of unprofessional behavior during these visits, remediation and other actions in accordance with the professional dispositions assessment may be necessary.

Assignment Structure:

- Prior to completing the activities, students will write a brief, one page reflection on what they believe the immersive experience will be like and what anxiety they may be experiencing related to participating in the activity. Consider this one-page reflection like a "Dear Journal" entry.
- Engage in the two cultural immersion activities.
- After completing both activities, you will write a 6 page reflective paper (title page and "Dear Journal" page not included) in APA 7th ed style. In the reflective paper you will consider and answer the following:
  - What event did you attend and what subcultural group did you choose to focus on?
  - What happened at the event? What role did you play during the experience?
  - Describe how the values and beliefs that comprise this situation are different than yours.
  - How was your thinking challenged? Describe any transformations that took place as a result of the experience.
  - What areas did you critically reflect?
  - Which of those preconceived ideas are now open to re-interpretation and why?
  - What have you learned about yourself and this particular subgroup now that the immersion is over?

- You will turn in ONE document that includes a title page, your “Dear Journal” page, and the 6 pages of reflective processing.

SERVICE-LEARNING PROJECT: PARTICIPATION IN ADVOCACY – 90 POINTS – Due on 8/1/2025 by noon

This assignment requires students to participate in an advocacy program in their respective community that advocates specifically for an underprivileged/disadvantaged group/population (e.g., after school program that serves students from low income families, individuals suffering from homelessness, new immigrants, undocumented immigrants, domestic violence victims, LGBTQIA+, etc).

Please select a program that will give you a rich multicultural/cross-cultural experience you never had before. The experience is aimed at providing you an opportunity to contribute to the community in a meaningful way. Additionally, learners will expand their multicultural knowledge and awareness, understand the role counselor plays in social justice advocacy, social factors related to social injustices, and improve their ability to apply a systemic framework to examine, evaluate, and effect social change. Students can expect to experience discomfort and emotional growth as a result of this experience. Discuss with your instructor if you’re not sure if the choice of advocacy group falls within the requirements of this assignment.

You should plan to immerse yourself as a volunteer for at least 8 hours in the program of your choice during the term and get to know the individuals/community the program seeks to serve or advocate for. It’s not advisable for you to cramp your volunteer hours in two or three days. Allow yourself time to get to know the program and the people. Some programs may require a minimum number of hours of participation beyond 8 hours. It is your choice, though going above and beyond minimum requirements is often part of advocacy.

Please work out the details of your involvement with the program coordinator or manager. Develop a plan that will help you achieve as many course objectives as possible within the time in this course. However, avoid taking the role of an expert. Just be a volunteer and let the leader(s) of the program know that you are there to serve and learn about a social justice advocacy and your participation will fulfill a requirement of a course you are taking at UT Tyler.

The goal for the project is as follow:

1. Acquire knowledge of and experiences with a group of individuals who have a specific shared social location/identity/life/circumstance that unjustly disadvantages them in the society that you do not have much prior knowledge and contact with.
2. Learn about advocacy programming: observe, reflect, evaluate, critique, and develop.

The expectation is that learners will develop in-depth knowledge relative to:

1. The systemic barriers to social justice your selected program aim to address.
2. The ways individuals (consumers of the program and the personnel in the advocacy program) interact with social, religious, cultural, political, educational, and legal organizations in the community.
3. Acquire advanced and current knowledge of multicultural and pluralistic trends, including characteristics and concerns between and within diverse groups.

While you are there, pay attention to the utilization of mental health services and the means they have and do not have to create social change.

END PRODUCT:

The end product is a project paper and documented record of volunteer work. Please make sure to complete the volunteer hours record form and have your point of contact or someone who supervised your volunteer time initial each time you visit the location to volunteer.

For the project paper, please write about the following:

1. Details the experience and its professional and personal impacts on you.
2. Describes the information learned about the program and the people/group the program/agency seeks to serve.
3. Describes the creation of a small action step/project that you can carry out to advocate for the program you have volunteered in. That is, now that you've learned about the program of your choice, give back to this program or support the vision and mission of this program by a small action step. Detail how you will carry out this action step/project so this plan/project will not be just stored in your computer and gather cyber dust.

Specify in the paper the number of hours you've completed with the program. Based on what you have learned experientially and conceptually from the literature on the target group as well as on social justice, briefly discuss recommendations you would give to the program/agency to improve the advocacy program. That means, if you were to run an advocacy program for the target group to bring about systemic social change, what would you do differently? This discussion allows you to demonstrate your skills in critiquing and developing advocacy plans. Students can lose points on this project if they do not discuss recommendations for improvement.

Limit your paper to about 5 pages, excluding title and reference pages. Please follow the latest APA writing requirements and citation format. Your grades will be impacted by your compliance with APA requirements. Use APA headings to help you organize your paper.

CULTURAL DIVERSITY AND ADVOCACY ESSAY OR PRESENTATION – 130 POINTS – Due on 8/7/2025 by noon

You will identify a specific population that is culturally different from your own. The specific population may include clients from differing racial, ethnic, spiritual/religious, gender, age, socioeconomic, and other diverse backgrounds. If you are uncertain about the population you want to research, check in with your instructor before beginning your research. Once you have identified the specific population, you will research their experiences with the processes of oppression, privilege, and systemic marginalization and how these directly and indirectly impact their mental health and help-seeking behavior. Finally, you will identify an advocacy or social justice model that you can employ to aid in eliminating the barriers the specific population faces and improving their overall mental well-being.

You will convert your research into either an APA style manuscript OR a formal recorded presentation. Whether you write or present, you should include the following parts: a description of the specific population, processes of oppression encountered, the impact of oppression on mental health and help-seeking behaviors, and a description and suggested implementation of an advocacy or social justice model to aid in eliminating barriers to mental well-being.

You should consider the following in your manuscript OR presentation:

- Distinct forms of oppression (e.g., racism, sexism, homophobia, ableism, ageism, religious discrimination, etc.) relevant to clinical mental health counseling and the specific population.
- For each form of oppression, provide a comprehensive description, including its historical context, systemic manifestations, and how it impacts individuals' daily lives and mental health.
- Explore the consequences of experiencing oppression to overall mental health and functioning. Discuss how oppression can lead to trauma, anxiety, depression, low self-esteem, and other mental health challenges.
- Analyze how the experience of oppression may influence diverse clients' help-seeking behaviors, including their willingness to seek counseling services.
- Discuss potential barriers clients from marginalized groups may encounter when accessing mental health care. Consider factors such as stigma, mistrust of the healthcare system, and cultural differences in help-seeking norms.
- Explain the importance of culturally sensitive counseling and related ethics in addressing the unique needs of diverse clients who have experienced oppression.

- Identify specific ways counselors can implement the recommended advocacy/social justice model.

If you choose to write, your manuscript should be formatted according to APA style guide 7th ed. If you choose to do a formal recorded presentation, you should turn in a recording, slides, and an APA style guide 7th ed. reference page.

Please note, your manuscript OR presentation must be supported by scholarly, peer-reviewed literature. At a minimum, you must have at least 5 scholarly references. Most of your sources must have a clear connection to professional counseling and must have been published within the last 10 years. See appendix A for grading rubric. This assignment assesses CACREP standards: 3.A.10; 3.B.1; 3.B.2; 3.B.3; 3.B.4; 3.B.5; 3.B.6; 3.B.7; 3.B.8; 3.B.9; 3.B.10; and 3.B.11.

PARTICIPATION & PROFESSIONALISM – 50 POINTS

Learning is a dynamic social process. In this class, your presence and active engagement are essential. Students are required to read all assigned course materials before class begins, so that they can actively engage with course content. Students are expected to regularly participate in class. Participation in discussion and class activities is an important component of learning. Active, meaningful engagement with your peers is expected.

Students are expected to attend classes on time, ready to engage in learning at the time class begins. Students who are consistently late at the beginning of class will have points deducted from their participation grade. Being on time means arriving at class at least 10 minutes before the scheduled class time and being in your seat and ready for class to begin. Furthermore, the Assessment of Professional Counseling Dispositions (APCD) is used as a guideline to assess and score professionalism in this course and throughout the CMHC program. A score below 2 in ANY single domain of the APCD could result in the loss of all participation and professionalism points for the semester. Students should refer to this document for a clearer understanding of professionalism expectations in this course and eventually as a professional counselor. Professionalism represents a way of being made up of appearance, manner, communication, interacting, attitudes, approach, skills, and openness to grow. As part of this class, students are expected to demonstrate professionalism during in person, clinic, and online interactions with their peers and the instructor. You are expected to be fully engaged in the course, invested in your own learning and the learning of others, and eager to participate. Concretely, active participation and professionalism means but is NOT limited to:

- Reading required materials and being prepared to work
- Demonstrating knowledge of reading assignment material
- Actively taking part in class activities
- Interacting well with peers
- Showing respect and courtesy toward peers and instructor
- Exhibiting a professional demeanor
- Actively engaging in learning opportunities
- Demonstrating critical thinking knowledge and skills
- Exhibiting growth in content knowledge and skills
- Contributing to a professional climate

University Policies

Artificial Intelligence in this Course

UT Tyler is committed to exploring and using artificial intelligence (AI) tools as appropriate for the discipline and task undertaken. We encourage discussing AI tools' ethical, societal philosophical, and disciplinary implications. All uses of AI should be acknowledged as this aligns with our commitment to honor and integrity, as noted in UT Tyler's Honor Code. Faculty and students must not use protected information, data, or copyrighted materials when using any AI tool. Additionally, users should be aware that AI tools rely on predictive models to generate content that may appear correct but is sometimes shown to be incomplete, inaccurate, taken without attribution from other sources, and/or biased. Consequently, an AI tool should not be considered a substitute for traditional approaches to research. You are ultimately responsible for the quality and content of the information you submit. Misusing AI tools that violate the guidelines specified for this course (see below) is considered a breach of academic integrity. The student will be subject to disciplinary actions as outlined in UT Tyler's Academic Integrity Policy.

For this course, you can use AI programs (ChatGPT, Copilot, etc.). These programs can be powerful tools for learning and other productive pursuits, including completing assignments in less time, helping you generate new ideas, or serving as a personalized learning tool. However, your ethical responsibilities as a student remain the same. You must follow UT Tyler's Honor Code and uphold the highest standards of academic honesty. Students are strictly forbidden to pass off work generated by AI as their own. This applies to all uncited or improperly cited content, whether created by a human or in collaboration with an AI tool. If you use an AI tool to develop content for an assignment, you must cite the tool's contribution to your work.

UT Tyler Honor Code

Every member of the UT Tyler community joins together to embrace: Honor and integrity that will not allow me to lie, cheat, or steal, nor to accept the actions of those who do.

Students Rights and Responsibilities

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number.
