Canvas Work: Half of this course is found online, in Canvas. All assignments posted in Canvas are meant to be completed by their posted due date. These include lectures, quizzes, One Sentence Response assignments, various other assignments, and all posted readings. Articles, links, and videos found on Canvas are there for a reason; I expect you to read and/or watch them!

Class Work: Half of this class takes place in-person, with weekly class meetings. These meetings may feature lectures, article presentations, group work, small projects, written or video assignments, or whatever I decide to incorporate that day. You will need to be prepared for each class meeting by completing that week’s online work ahead of time. I will communicate with you through Canvas (using email, on Modules, or using Announcements) to help keep you on schedule throughout the semester.

Extra Credit: Do not plan on having access to any extra credit in ALHS 1300. If any extra credit is offered throughout the semester, it will be advertised to everyone either during a class meeting, or on our Canvas. I do not curve any assignments, and do not round any grades other than what is shown on the grading scale above.

Major Assignments:

Final Exam: Comprehensive exam over all lecture material from the semester. Questions may be formatted as multiple choice, true/false, fill-in-the-blank, select all that apply, or short answer.

Course Policies and Expectations:

Professionalism: Students are expected to arrive on time for class. It is expected that students will display a professional attitude at all times, including being attentive during lectures and class meetings, and being respectful to the instructor and fellow classmates. Keep distractions to a minimum or risk being asked to leave class.

Attendance: Students are expected to attend all classes and are responsible for any material missed. Your success in this class will depend on your attendance and the effort you put forth, both online and in-person.

Cell Phones: Students may use their phones during in-person classes, but must exercise extreme discretion. Continuous casual use, or scrolling through social media, will not be tolerated, especially during peer presentations. If you cannot control yourself, then put it away.

Missed class: Students who miss class, regardless of the reason, are expected to take the initiative to obtain notes and/or homework from a fellow student who attended that class. Online lecture material will be posted on Canvas and will remain available until the end of the semester.

Make-up: All online assignments have firm due dates. You'll have access to these for at least three days prior to the due date. If you miss an exam without contacting me ahead of time to reschedule, or providing a University-approved excuse, you will receive a zero.

If you need an extension on any assignment, fill out the "Extension Request" located on our Canvas "Modules" page. Based on your request, I will either automatically approve it and reset your due date or contact you with more information or recommendations. You must complete this before the assignment in question is due, and submit it at least three hours before the assignment's submission deadline. Extension Requests will not be honored for the Final Exam unless there are extenuating circumstances that you have communicated to me.

Please do not email the instructor assignments and/or projects unless otherwise asked to. A missed exam or major assignment (paper, presentation, etc.) without a prior excuse receives an automatic zero.

Participation: Students are strongly encouraged to ask, and respond to, questions in class; this student/instructor interaction makes for more interesting class sessions and facilitates better learning. You may (and are encouraged to) work in groups to complete all homework and assignments. However, the work that you hand in is expected to be original and to be your own. Any act of cheating or plagiarism will result in a grade of zero for that assignment. (This means put everything in your own words and CITE all of your sources!) Depending on the extent, any incidence of cheating or plagiarism may result in dismissal from the course, and further discipline by the university.

Tech: It is expected that each student is proficient in the use of Microsoft Office (Word, PowerPoint, Excel) or Apple iWork (Pages, Keynote, Numbers). You will be required to use these applications extensively in this class. If you do not know how to use these applications, seek help from Computer Services or similar assistance. All written work must be legible.

This class uses Canvas extensively. Make sure you are familiar with Canvas and our course in particular. Announcements will be sent to your Patriots e-mail account, so check it frequently.

Other: Phone calls are not to be taken during class unless you are expecting an emergency call. If you are expecting an emergency call during class, notify me prior to the beginning of class and take the call outside of the room. Water is allowed in the lecture room, but it must be in a seal-able bottle.

Course recordings should not be shared outside of the course in any form without express permission.

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness And Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. (For Spring, the Census Date is January 29.) Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date (January 29th) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.

- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a “W” grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.
