

7.3 Clinical Sites

(Revised 11/3/2023)

Clinical facilities:

Undergraduate students: Students can expect to be placed in various facilities based on their clinical course objectives. Faculty assign clinical placements.

Graduate students: Students can expect to be placed in various facilities during their enrollment in the program. Graduate students choose clinical sites with their instructor's approval in various settings designed to facilitate meeting their clinical objectives.

Transportation:

Students are responsible for their transportation to clinical sites. Students are not to transport patients in their own vehicles. This protects both the student and the patient. When a patient needs transportation for health purposes, there are volunteers and agencies that provide this service. The faculty may be contacted for further information.
