PSYC 3325 – Learning and Conditioning – ONLINE/asynchronous

Instructor Information: Kristie Allen, M.A.

Hello! My name is Kristie Allen. I serve as a lecturer for the Department of Psychology and Counseling. I graduated from Grand Valley State University (Allendale, MI) with my Bachelors in Psychology and later from UT Tyler with my Masters in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. I am passionate about working with college students to find meaning in their coursework and a greater purpose in their educational journey. This course provides an introduction to the psychology of learning and is concerned with the conditions, principles, and theories behind learning and motivation. Students will learn about research methods, theories, and findings associated with traditional and contemporary learning research. A variety of learning theories, highlighting behavioristic approaches (such as Pavlovian and operant conditioning) will be emphasized. Additional topics to be explored include complex phenomena such as self-control, social-cognitive processes related to learning and motivation, and how learning physically changes the brain's structure and function through neuroplasticity. Students will apply their theoretical learning by critically analyzing everyday learning problems (e.g., 'how should I study', 'how can I improve', etc.) in light of existing empirical research.

Please note – I like to think of this as a Learning & Conditioning “Bootcamp”! We have 5 weeks to touch on a vast array of topics, so things will move fast! You NEED to be mindful of due dates in order to do well in this class. I have tried my best to break up the course into “bite sized” pieces that you can move through and master at this expedited pace.

The best way to contact me is to send a message through CANVAS. I usually respond to messages within one business day, Monday through Friday. Weekend availability will vary. You can also e- mail me directly at kallen@uttyler.edu or call me at (903) 566-7208.

Each Wednesday, I will be available from 10:30pm-12:00pm via ZOOM for Office Hours. Link below:

Passcode: 902654

If this day and time does not work for you, please know I am happy to meet at another time that is convenient for you by setting an appointment with me via e-mail or canvas messenger.

I am committed to facilitating an online learning environment that is equitable, inclusive and welcoming and that fosters a climate of mutual respect and full participation. I expect you all to demonstrate that same level of respect to one another. Please be kind, open-minded, and receptive to feedback as that is the best way to ensure you get the most you can out of this class.

Personal Applications & Impact

It is impossible to study Psychology without thinking about our own lived experiences – that would take all the fun out of it! However, some topics we study may not be relevant to your own experiences, and your own experiences may not be consistent with the material presented. This does not mean that the research I present is inaccurate or that your experiences are “wrong”. No psychological study will account for every person’s experiences. In addition, some of the material in this class may provoke strong feelings about your past experiences or current life. It is a specific goal of this course to make sure you become good consumers of psychological information and sometimes that will mean challenging your own prior beliefs, values, and experiences.

Course Catalog Description:

A survey of historical and contemporary associative and cognitive learning theories, and related conditioning principles, as applied to human and nonhuman animals. Laboratory exercises and demonstrations illustrating learning and conditioning in animals and humans

Student Learning Outcomes:

- Be able to analyze behaviors from the perspective of each school of behaviorism.
- List the major historical figures in the history of the psychology of learning and describe their contributions.
- Distinguish among different forms of learning.
- Describe the classical conditioning paradigm and the procedures for acquisition and extinction.
- Explain how the principles of Pavlovian conditioning can be applied in clinical and other settings.
- Describe operant conditioning procedures and the effects of various schedules of reinforcement.
- Discuss the effects on behavior of positive reinforcement, negative reinforcement, positive and negative punishment.
- Explain how the principles of operant conditioning can be applied to practical settings.
- Define generalization and discrimination and describe the major paradigms and phenomena associated with these processes.
- Explain the major biological constraints on the generality of the laws of learning.
- Critically analyze learning strategies based on scientific research on learning.

Evaluation and Grading:

Quizzes	There will be six quizzes completed via Canvas. Each quiz will be worth 20 points. I will drop the lowest grade! This is already built in.	100
Discussion Board Assignments	There will be 4 Discussion Board Assignments (15 points each).	60
Make It Stick Reflection	See Canvas for Instructions	28
Checking for Understanding Points		12
Total Points		200
Extra Credit: You have an optional extra credit assignment worth 10 points.

180-200 points: A

160-179 points: B

140-159 points: C

120-139 points: D

<119 points: F

Checking for Understanding Points - “Attendance”

A 2010 meta-analysis of the relationship between class attendance in college and college grades found that class attendance is a better predictor of college grades than any other known predictor of academic performance (Crede et al., 2010). In an online environment, attendance is almost impossible to monitor. Because this is a three-credit hour upper division course and we would be meeting 3 times a week if this were in-person, I feel strongly about incentivizing watching lecture videos by attaching some points to them. Each module will have 1-2 videos. Each video will have a handful of questions embedded in the “assignment”, totaling 2 points per module (total of 12 points for the semester). This only equates to 6% of your overall grade, so missing some questions will not make or break you, but it is a way for me to gauge who is conscientiously consuming the educational materials I have prepared and who is just running through the quizzes and assignments.

Credé, M., Roch, S. G., & Kieszczynka, U. M. (2010). Class attendance in college: A meta-analytic review of the relationship of class attendance with grades and student characteristics. Review of Educational Research, 80(2), 272-295.

Quizzes:

- Quizzes - I have decided to open EVERY quiz at the start of the Summer 2 5-week term, but each one has its own specific due date! Check the calendar and the list below for due dates!
- You may use your textbook, Power Points, notes, but NOT another person. Do not rely on these items exclusively because of the time constraints. You really need to KNOW the material.
- Each quiz is a mixture of 20 questions, true/false and multiple choice.
- The quizzes are timed at 60 minute
- Please study as if this was an in-person quiz!
- Please read the section on academic dishonesty. It is not tolerated AT ALL. If cheating is suspected, you will be reported to the Office of Student Affairs
- Canvas has already built in to drop ONE quiz so please don't ask me to reopen it!

Extra Credit Opportunity:

Please visit the Extra Credit Module for information on your extra credit options. All Extra Credit is due by August 7.

Academic Dishonesty:

Canvas has tools that shows when/if a student has plagiarized information. It will generate a report once you submit your work and any information matching other sources will be highlighted in a document. I am sure you know that this would be considered to violate our Academic Dishonesty Policy and you will be turned into the Student Affairs office for review. Your work must be original and in your own words. I cannot stress enough; make sure ALL of your work is ORIGINAL. If you aren't sure if the work you are about to submit abides by the academic dishonesty policy of the university) don't submit it. You know if the work you are submitting is completely original. Make sure that you always include in-text citations as well as a Works Cited page in APA format with all of your work. For assistance with APA formatting, you may visit the writing center on campus and find this site to be helpful:

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Spring 2024 Census Date – January 29

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. (Links to an external site.)Links to an external site.Links to an external site. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions that students need to be aware of. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W, grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Disability Services

In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA) the University of Texas at Tyler offers accommodations to students with learning, physical and/or psychological disabilities. If you have a disability, including a non-visible diagnosis such as a learning disorder, chronic illness, TBI, PTSD, ADHD, or you have a history of modifications or accommodations in a previous educational environment, you are encouraged to visit

<https://hood.accessiblelearning.com/UTTyler> and fill out the New Student application. The Student Accessibility and Resources (SAR) office will contact you when your application has been submitted and an appointment with Cynthia Lowery, Assistant Director of Student Services/ADA Coordinator. For more information, including filling out an application for services, please visit the SAR webpage at <http://www.uttyler.edu/disabilityservices>. Student Absence due to Religious Observance

Students who anticipate being absent from class due to a religious observance are requested to inform the instructor of such absences by the second class meeting of the semester.

Student Absence for University-Sponsored Events and Activities

If you intend to be absent for a university-sponsored event or activity, you (or the event sponsor) must notify the instructor at least two weeks prior to the date of the planned absence. At that time the instructor will set a date and time when make-up assignments will be completed.

Social Security and FERPA Statement

It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.

Emergency Exits and Evacuation

Everyone is required to exit the building when a fire alarm goes off. Follow your instructor's directions regarding the appropriate exit. If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class. Do not re-enter the building unless given permission by University Police, Fire department, or Fire Prevention Services.

Student Standards of Academic Conduct

Disciplinary proceedings may be initiated against any student who engages in scholastic dishonesty, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.
