Catalog Description

This course provides an introduction to instructional coaching, a form of job-embedded professional development focused on improving teaching practice in order to improve student learning. In addition, culturally proficient coaching will be examined as a way to shift thinking in support of all students achieving at higher levels.

Student Learning Outcomes

In this course, students will:
- Compare and contrast models of instructional coaching used in schools.
- Discuss the critical nature of heavy vs. light coaching and the use of partnership principles in instructional coaching.
- Examine how instructional coaches work to engage teachers in reflective thinking that leads to improved student learning.

Required Textbook

"A student of this institution is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from a university-affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer."

Last Day to Withdraw from this course: March 30, 2020.

COURSE POLICIES

All assignments are expected to be completed to the best ability of the student and adhere to the stated assignment criteria. Assignments that require the student to redo and resubmit will be adjusted by 10%.

There is no extra credit work. However, students may choose to resubmit written assignments if they are not satisfied with their grade. If a student chooses to resubmit a written assignment, the student may earn up to 90% of the points. There are no retakes for quizzes, the midterm or the final exam.

All assignments must be submitted by date listed on the assignment schedule. Given the challenges that come with being a full-time educator while going to graduate school, each student has a one-time two-week grace period. The student has two options when using the one-time two-week grace period.

a. Submit the assignments for ONE module up to two-weeks late without penalties. OR
b. Submit the assignments for TWO modules up to one-week late each without penalties.

The student must contact Dr. Oliveras to inform her that he/she will be using a “late pass”. If a written assignment is due and a “late pass” will be used, a note should be included with the assignment. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of due dates and keep Dr. Oliveras informed of any conflicts that result in late submissions. Failure to notify Dr. Oliveras that a “late pass” will be used will result in a late submission penalty as explained below.

Once the one-time two-week grace period has been used or if the student does not notify Dr. Oliveras when using a “late pass”, assignments will receive a 10% late submission penalty per week. If the assignment is more than a week late, an additional 10% will be deducted per week.
The “late passes” may not be used for the class discussions. To receive credit for the class discussions, the student must participate on time.

Participation and your commitment to your learning is critical to your success in any course. Your timely participation in the class discussion is a substantial part of your grade in this course.

Communication

To contact me via email, you may use the Canvas email. Click on the Inbox on the left side of the Canvas main menu. Through Canvas, you may send a text email or a video message. You may also email me at yoliverasortiz@uttyler.edu. Please note that this is not a Patriots email address.

I will respond to your emails as quickly as possible; my priority is to be supportive of your work to ensure your success. I generally reply to email within a few hours but given other commitments and responsibilities, my goal is to respond to emails sent during the week within 24 hours. While I try to respond to emails over the weekend as promptly as possible, emails sent over the weekend might not be read until Monday morning.
Written Assignments, Quizzes & Exams

Some of the written assignments in this course require collaboration with other students; your participation as documented on Canvas will count towards the participation grade.

All other written assignments as well as all quizzes and exams are individual assignments. Students may not collaborate on the individual assignments. Unauthorized collaboration is considered cheating and will be handled according to University Policies and the Students Standards of Academic Conduct.
