Course Description:
An enriched, integrated pre-service course and content experience that provides active recruitment and institutional support of students interested in a teaching career, especially in high needs fields. The course provides students with opportunities to participate in early field observations at all levels of P-12 schools with varied and diverse student populations and provide students with support from college and school faculty, preferably in small cohort groups, for the purpose of introduction to and analysis of the culture of schooling and classrooms. Course content should be aligned as applicable with State Board for Educators Certification Pedagogy and Professional Responsibilities standards. Course must include a minimum of 16 contact hours of field experience in P-12 classrooms.

Field Observation Guidelines

One aspect of EDUC 1301 is an opportunity to observe elementary, middle, and secondary classrooms. The hours 16 of field observation (Field) is tied to your final “Tentative Philosophy of Education” essay due at the end of the semester. 12 hours of direct observation which includes 4-elementary, 4-middle level, and 4-secondary are required. In addition, 4 hours will be analyzed on March 26 on-line using the following site- http://houstonisdpsd.org
Each grade level is different. I have listed some areas for you to observe to help you make good use of your time.

Elementary School:

What philosophy do you think the teacher is using? How do you know?
Describe the classroom. Look for learning centers, computer areas, music stations, etc. What do the walls look like?

What instructional strategies is the teacher using?

Where are the students in relation to the teacher? Does this make a difference in learning?

How do students move from one activity to the next (within the classroom, to the cafeteria, bathrooms, etc.)

Middle School:

Conduct a shadow study.

Select one student to observe for the entire time. Every minute write down the student’s behavior. Be able to describe what he or she is doing. For example, is the student on task?, day dreaming?…fooling with other students… perhaps braiding a friend’s hair….

Does the student’s behavior tell you anything about the teacher or the way the class is organized?

Secondary School:

When you enter the parking lot what is your first impression? After you obtain your visitor’s pass and you enter the main building what is your overall impression.

What do you see?

Describe the hallways…cafeteria…student behavior etc.

Once in a classroom try to determine what philosophy the teacher is using. What instructional strategies, activities, or management techniques support your initial observations.
You will keep these filed observations in a separate folder. They will be used to provide detailed items which will support your educational philosophy due at the end of the semester.

NOTE: You will arrange the observation times with your assigned teacher. EDUC 1301 classroom times will not be used for these observations. Make sure you plan ahead to complete these 12 hours.

(For Fall, the Census Date is Sept. 12.) Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar. Each semester’s Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date (Sept. 12th) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:
