UT TYLER EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

TRAINING

Employees of U.T. Tyler may have the opportunity to participate in training programs related to their current position or designed to teach new skills for other positions within the University. Employees will be made aware of these training workshops through e-mail messages, memos or the Intercom newsletter. By participating in these programs, employees benefit themselves and the University. Attendance must be approved by the employee’s supervisor.

For more information consult the: Employee Education and Training Policy, 4.17.3.
