“Doubt is not a pleasant condition, but certainty is absurd.” ~ Voltaire

Course Description:

We will explore American history from human origins in North America (~14,000 BCE) to the end of Reconstruction (1877). In doing so, we will examine social, political, environmental, cultural, diplomatic, and military history and how each together shaped the course of American history.

Course Prerequisites:

There are no prerequisites for this course.

Content Objectives/Instructional Goals:

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Outline a strong understanding of the development of the United States in both a domestic and global context.
2. Investigate American history by employing analytical skills that include thinking deeply, reading actively, and writing carefully about American history.
3. Critique historical narratives and documents by demonstrating a strong sense of scholarly skepticism and by balancing everything with hefty amounts of context and perspective; Or, in the spirit of Voltaire, embrace the certainty that nothing is certain and that everything is and ought to be open to (careful and thoughtful) interpretation.
4. Demonstrate a clear understanding that accurate interpretations (see above) can only rest on ample and sturdy evidence.

Important Note:

I encourage you to meet with me regularly to discuss or clarify lecture, discussion, or reading—or to talk about American history in general. My job (and satisfaction) is as much to work with students on an individual basis as it is to lecture and facilitate discussion. Please keep this in mind throughout the semester. The best way to meet is after class, during office hours, or by appointment, but always feel free to also send me an e-mail. I will try to get back to you within 24 hours.

Another Important Note:

When you finish this course, my goal is for you to have a strong understanding of the major themes, characters, and connections in the story of early America, and I hope you will recognize how enormously impactful this period has been (and remains) in our world today—politically, militarily, environmentally, diplomatically, socially, culturally, and so on. To fully understand and appreciate any story, it is imperative that you know-well the characters and events in that story. So you must commit to memory a lot of material (characters and events) for this class. What class/subject does not require that you remember things? This said, I recognize and appreciate that specific names, events, etc., fade in time. (They fade for me, too.) That's okay. This stuff is the scaffolding. Like scaffolding for any structure, real or perceived, it is critically important early on, but it is not meant to stay forever—just long enough such that the finished product emerges in all its glory and remains for the ages. Simply put, the finished product for this course is your general understanding and appreciation for the early American past—an understanding and appreciation that I hope will remain long after the details fade.

Required Reading:

- James Oakes, et al., Of the People: A History of the United States, Concise, Vol. 1 (Oxford Univ. Press, ANY EDITION)

Quizzes:

There will be THREE quizzes, each consisting of ten multiple-choice, true/false, or matching questions over the brief video lectures, textbook, and/or module notes for each module. Each quiz is worth 20 points. Quizzes are designed to help familiarize you with at least some of the important material that will be on the exams. You will have TWO chances to take each quiz, and the highest score will be recorded. All quizzes will be posted Wednesday mornings and will be due by 11:59pm on Thursday nights.

Exams:

There will be three exams. Each exam will consist of 25 multiple choice questions (worth two points each) and one short essay question (worth 50 points) for a total of 100. Exams are not cumulative. I will open the exams on Friday morning each week, and you will have until 11:59pm on each Sunday night to finish. Once you begin the test, you will have exactly 60 minutes to finish. See schedule below for specific dates. I will post a study guide on Wednesday of each week.

Historical Website Review:

Please write a 4-5 page, double-spaced analytical review of the website "Community and Conflict: The Impact of the Civil War in the Ozarks". Once you arrive at the site, read the "About" section first. Then explore the rest of the site and address the following: 1) Identify and explain at least three topics from the "By Theme" and/or "Battles" tab, and be sure to engage at least one primary source from each topic. An example of a topic with a primary source would be: "By Theme"—"Refugees"—"A Confederate Girlhood"; 2) Identify and explain what you consider to be the site's best/most helpful section(s); 3) Generally speaking, what did you gain from the website that you didn't already know?; 4) What were the site's weaknesses? 5) Would you recommend I use this website in future online courses? Why or why not

Participation Expectations:

Students are expected to attend face-to-face classes each week and be prepared to engage in discussions, ask questions, and generally be active participants in a group conversation.

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. (For Spring, the Census Date is January 29) Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date (January 29) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Student Accessibility and Resources

In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA) the University offers accommodations to students with learning, physical and/or psychiatric disabilities. If you have a disability, including non-visible disabilities such as chronic diseases, learning disabilities, head injury, PTSD or ADHD, or you have a history of modifications or accommodations in a previous educational environment you are encouraged to contact the Student Accessibility and Resources (SAR) office and schedule an interview with the Accessibility Case Manager/ADA Coordinator, Cynthia Lowery Staples. Student Absence for University-Sponsored Events and Activities

If you intend to be absent for a university-sponsored event or activity, you (or the event sponsor) must notify the instructor at least two weeks prior to the date of the planned absence. At that time the instructor will set a date and time when make-up assignments will be completed.

Social Security and FERPA Statement

It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.

Everyone is required to exit the building when a fire alarm goes off. Follow your instructor's directions regarding the appropriate exit. If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class. Do not re-enter the building unless given permission by University Police, Fire department, or Fire Prevention Services.
