Introduction & Objectives

Welcome to American History 1301 Online!! This course covers the main themes of U.S. History from initial European contact in the Americas through Reconstruction in the latter part of the 19th century. This class explores the foundation and formation of America by examining American history before 1877. An objective of the course is to study the key political, economic, social, and cultural developments during this period to provide a basic understanding of the chronology and entanglements of early U.S. history and impact on modern world history. Another objective is to introduce the complexities and contradictions of American history by emphasizing the diverse historical interpretations of American history of those often marginalized, yet central, to the American past (i.e. Africans, African Americans, Native Americans, Women, and the poor). In examining the complexity of early American history, this class this semester will focus on the themes of trade, colonization, slavery, gender, revolution, capitalism, nationalism, and freedom in the making of America and the global World.

The class is designed offer skills to generally analyze and think about history and the history making process in from a global framework. Class exercises are geared to provide comparative analysis and an opportunity to think like an historian. Through primary source analysis, students will learn the skills to read in between the lines and pages of textbooks and historical materials. In the end, students will be able to provide their own narrative and interpretation of the early American past. And finally, the class aims to apply their knowledge of early American history with current American and global events.

By the end of the class, students will:

- Acquire a conceptual framework for the study of early American history in a global context, including theoretical constructs, and historiographical practices
- Trace the movement, population, and development of people and cultures in early American history while uncovering themes that shape the world
- Obtain the skills to be able to think, process, and communicate on early American history and historical themes

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

- The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions that students need to be aware of. These include:
- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Disability Services

In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodation must provide documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services counselor. If you have a
