Course Description:

Historical Methods is a required course for History or History/Education majors at the University of Texas at Tyler. It is designed to familiarize students how historians research, interpret, and write history—how, that is, to be a historian. Although the most important part of the class focuses on an original primary-source based research paper, we will also explore many other themes including graduate school, public history, archival work, history in the classroom, and history applications in a variety of fields. Research topics should fall within either the geographical boundaries of East Texas or with some topic directly related to East Texas. For this class, East Texas is loosely defined as points east of Dallas, Austin, and Victoria (see map on Blackboard). Within these geographic bounds, you are mostly free to focus your research and writing efforts on any topic or time period you find most intriguing.

Important Note:

I encourage you to meet with me regularly to discuss or clarify lecture, discussion, or reading—or to talk about history in general. My job (and satisfaction) is as much to work with students on an individual basis as it is to lecture and facilitate discussion. Please keep this in mind throughout the semester.

Reading:

Books:

John H. Arnold, History: A Very Short Introduction, 10th edition (New York: Oxford University Press, 2000)

Mary Lynn Rampolla, A Pocket Guide to Writing in History, 7th edition (Boston: Bedford St. Martins, 2012)

Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 8th edition (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2013)

Library Work:

Each student will hold at least one mandatory research conference with Ms. Vicki Betts—the professional librarian who oversees all history-related research at the Muntz Library. You will need to set aside at least 30 minutes to meet with Ms. Betts. Go to the meeting well-prepared with as much material and ideas concerning your topic as possible. These research conferences are designed to give you an opportunity to take full advantage of the library's resources and to familiarize you with working in a library environment alongside research professionals. Your meetings should take place before Friday, September 26.

Assignments:

All assignments in this class are geared toward the final research paper by means of research, writing, and revising.

- Topic Proposal:
 - o The paper topic must relate directly to East Texas, but the time period is open. Please consider the following when choosing a topic: 1) Are there enough accessible primary sources to form the core of the paper? 2) Is the topic sufficiently narrow so that you can potentially say something new or approach it from a unique angle? 3) Are you truly interested in the topic? In other words, is it something you will be comfortable with working on for an entire semester? I reserve the right to veto or edit any proposed topic.
- Bibliography (10 points):
 - o Construct a professional bibliography of primary and secondary sources. The bibliography must consist of a minimum of seven primary sources, seven professional journal articles, and ten secondary books—all of which must be relevant. Ten percentage points will be deducted for every missing source in each category. It MUST follow the bibliography format shown in Chapter 17 of Turabian. More specific guidelines will be distributed in class.

- Outline (10 points):
 - o Construct a detailed outline for your research paper. More specific guidelines will be distributed in class.
- Historiography Assignment (30 points):
 - o Write a 600+ word historiographical review of the THREE most important secondary books concerning your topic. It is essential that you explain how the works will add to your research paper and how your research will complement the books in question. More specific guidelines will be distributed in class.
- Book Review (20 points):
 - o Choose the most influential secondary book regarding your topic and write a 600 word professional analytical review of the work. (single-spaced, 1-inch margins, etc.). More specific guidelines will be distributed in class.
- First Draft: Research Paper (50 points):
 - o A 6,000+ word paper (exclusive of footnotes/bibliography) based on original research. This is not a “rough” draft. It should be polished. More specific guidelines will be distributed in class.
- Peer Review (20 points)
 - o Part I: (10 points)
 - A professional fair and balanced critique of your colleague’s first draft. 600+ words. Consider the following: 1) What is the argument? 2) Is it adequately proven with sufficient use of primary sources? 3) What is the most intriguing/important thing that you gained from the paper? 4) What should the author consider doing to improve the paper? 5) What is good/promising about the paper?
 - o Part II: (10 points)
 - Verbal review of your colleague’s paper. Devote about 6–8 minutes to the verbal review. Use your written reviews (above) as the basis for your oral reviews.
- Final Research Paper (100 points):
 - o A 6,000+ word paper (exclusive of footnotes/bibliography) based on original research.
- Presentation (20 points):
 - o A 20–30 minute presentation of your research. As you put together your presentation, be sure to address all of the following: 1) Why you became interested in history. 2) Why you chose your topic; 3) Your argument; 4) If and how that argument evolved as you researched; 5) At least three main points you made to back up your argument; 6) The research process—surprises, difficulties, discoveries, etc.. More specific guidelines will be distributed in class.

Attendance and Participation:

Attendance is mandatory. Two or more un-excused absences will result in the drop of a letter grade. Every subsequent absent will result in another letter grade drop. Active class participation is critical.

Point Breakdown:

Bibliography:	10 pts
Outline:	10 pts

Make-up Policy:

If you miss an assignment due to an emergency, talk with me as soon as you return. Exclusive of mutually agreed emergencies, 10 percentage points will be deducted for every day something is late.

Academic Honesty:

Cheating of any kind, including plagiarism, will result in immediate failure of the class and possibly further sanctions from the University of Texas at Tyler. Plagiarism, put simply, is using another's work as your own without proper citation or usage. This includes everything from copying and pasting from the Internet to failing to cite an idea from another source that you put in your own words. I strongly recommend reviewing the university policy for cheating and academic dishonesty at the following website: <http://www.uttyler.edu/judicialaffairs/>

Students Rights and Responsibilities

To know and understand the policies that affect your rights and responsibilities as a student at UT Tyler, please follow this link: <http://www2.uttyler.edu/wellness/rightsresponsibilities.php>

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions that students need to be aware of. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Disability Services

In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA) the University offers accommodations to students with learning, physical and/or psychiatric disabilities. If you have a disability, including non-visible disabilities such as chronic diseases, learning disabilities, head injury, PTSD or ADHD, or you have a history of modifications or accommodations in a previous educational environment you are encouraged to contact the Student Accessibility and Resources office and schedule an interview with the Accessibility Case Manager/ADA Coordinator, Cynthia Lowery Staples. If you are unsure if the above criteria applies to you, but have questions or concerns please contact the SAR office. For more information or to set up an appointment please visit the SAR office located in the University Center, Room 3150 or call 903.566.7079. You may also send an email to cstaples@uttyler.edu

Student Absence due to Religious Observance

Students who anticipate being absent from class due to a religious observance are requested to inform the instructor of such absences by the second class meeting of the semester.

Student Absence for University-Sponsored Events and Activities

If you intend to be absent for a university-sponsored event or activity, you (or the event sponsor) must notify the instructor at least two weeks prior to the date of the planned absence. At that time the instructor will set a date and time when make-up assignments will be completed.

Social Security and FERPA Statement:

It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.

Emergency Exits and Evacuation:

Everyone is required to exit the building when a fire alarm goes off. Follow your instructor's directions regarding the appropriate exit. If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class. Do not re-enter the building unless given permission by University Police, Fire department, or Fire Prevention Services.
