UT Tyler Longview University Center Welcomes New Students

The University of Texas at Tyler Longview University Center held an orientation session on Jan. 9 for its newest level one nursing students, Dr. Van Patterson, director, announced.

“It is always a pleasure to meet these students who are entering the nursing program for the first time,” said Patterson. “Many of the students are from Longview, Hallsville and Mt. Pleasant but we also have some that have traveled from as far away as Baytown and Edmond, Oklahoma. I hope the city of Longview will join us in welcoming these students to our community.”

Students interested in pursuing a bachelor of science in nursing degree should contact Michelle Livingston at 903.663.8103 or by email at mlivingston@uttyler.edu to schedule an appointment. Livingston will be able to discuss specific program requirements and provide assistance with the registration process. Additional information about nursing, public administration, technology, and criminal justice courses is also available online at www.uttyler.edu/luc.
