Subchapter 11-200. Residence Life Administration

Sec. 11-201. Administration of Residence Life

- a. The director will plan, coordinate, and/or direct all activities related to the Residence Life program. In carrying out these duties, the director is responsible to and shall work closely with the vice president.

Subchapter 11-300. Resident Assistant Program

Sec 11-301. Residence Coordinators (RC)

- a. The RC is a full time professional staff member who assists with the daily administration of the housing department. The RC lives in a Residence Life housing facility. The RC assists with supervising the RAs, managing the programming and community development activities, maintaining correct rosters and serving as a judicial officer for violations of housing and UT Tyler policies. The RC also works on special projects for the department, such as summer camps and conferences.
- b. The RC for Marketing and Conduct is a full time professional staff member who assists with the marketing of housing and conduct programs, including social media outreach, print pieces, and special events. This RC also serves as a judicial officer and hears conduct cases.
- c. The RC for the Residence Life Office is a full time staff member who assists with daily and special operations of the residence life office. This RC assists with RA selection and training, staff development, and student conduct.

Sec. 11-302. Head Resident Assistants (Head RAs)

a. Head RAs are returning RAs who are responsible for the daily administration of the housing facility they live in. One Head RA is assigned to each Residence Life housing facility. Head RAs are responsible for supervising the RAs, managing the programming and community development activities of their facility, responding to emergencies in housing, maintaining correct rosters and enforcing housing and UT Tyler policies.

Sec. 11-303. Resident Assistants (RAs)

a. RAs are successful returning residents or students with previous experience living on campus who have demonstrated leadership skills, responsibility and a commitment to community development. RAs are responsible for knowing the residents on their assigned floor or wing, coordinating social and educational activities for their residents, and confronting and documenting violations of residence life rules and regulations that take place in campus housing or that involve residents. Due to the responsibilities of these positions, it is vital that RAs follow the standards set out for them during RA training and outlined in the RA agreement.

b. RAs are selected through an application and interview process that involves the director and the RC. RA candidates must complete the application, a group process and an individual interview to be considered for employment as an RA. Mandatory training is provided prior to the beginning of each semester for all RAs.
