Chapter 6. Speech, Expression, and Assembly

Subchapter 6-100. Governing Principles

Sec. 6-101. General Definitions--Categories of Speakers

As used in this chapter,

1. "Academic or administrative unit" means any office or department of the University.
2. "Antisemitism" means a certain perception of Jews that may be expressed as hatred toward Jews. The term includes rhetorical and physical acts of antisemitism directed toward Jewish or non-Jewish individuals or their property or toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities.
3. "Event" means something that occurs in a certain place during a particular interval of time; events include but are not limited to guest speakers, exhibits, tables, distribution of literature, signs, and public assemblies.
4. "Expressive activities" means any speech or expressive conduct protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution or by Section 8, Article I, Texas Constitution, and includes assemblies, protests, speeches, the distribution of written material, the carrying of signs, and the circulation of petitions. The term does not include commercial speech, defamation, unlawful harassment, incitement to imminent unlawful activity, obscenity, or threats to engage in unlawful activity.
5. "Faculty member and staff member" includes any person who is employed by the University.
6. "Off-campus person or organization" and "member of the public" means any person, organization, or business that is not an academic or administrative unit, a registered student, faculty, or staff organization, or a student, faculty member, or staff member.
7. "Registered student, faculty, or staff organization" includes a registered student organization under chapter 2, subchapter 2.7 of the manual of policies and procedures (MOPP), a faculty or staff organization under the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 40201), and Student Government and any unit or subdivision thereof;
8. "Student" means a person who is currently enrolled in residence at the University, or who is accepted for admission or readmission to the University, or who has been enrolled at the University in a prior semester or summer session and is eligible to continue enrollment in the semester or summer session that immediately follows, or who is attending an educational program sponsored by the University while that person is on campus.
9. "University person or organization" includes academic and administrative units, registered student, faculty, and staff organizations, and individual students, faculty members, and staff members. This phrase describes the most inclusive category of potential speakers on campus; all persons and organizations of any kind are either an "off-campus person or organization" or a "University person or organization."

Sec. 6-102. Other General Definitions

As used in this chapter:

1. "Amplified sound" means sound whose volume is increased by any electric, electronic, mechanical, or motor-powered means. Shouting and group chanting are not amplified sound and are not subject to the special rules on amplified sound, but are subject to general rules on disruption.
2. "Braithwaite Gardens" includes the paved areas adjacent to the Cowan Center.
3. "Chief student success officer" means the Chief Student Success Officer or his/her designee and "director" refers to the Director of Student Engagement or his/her designee.
4. "Common outdoor area" means outdoor space that has been designated by the UT System Board of Regents and is not used for dedicated University business or an event, an educational function, or a research function on either a permanent or temporary basis. It does not include the outside surfaces of a University building, surfaces associated with or connected to a University building, a University structure, spaces dedicated to temporary outdoor banners, spaces dedicated to temporary outdoor exhibits, or any other space within the University's limited public forum. Common outdoor areas are designated by state law as traditional public forums. Common outdoor areas are Patriot Plaza, University Center Met Patio, and Harvey Deck Patio.
5. "Day" means calendar day.

6. "Harvey Deck" includes the patio near Harvey Lake
7. "Limited public forum" means the University property, both indoors and outdoors, that is not part of the common outdoor area. This includes the outside surfaces of a University building, surfaces associated with or connected to a University building, a University structure, spaces dedicated to temporary outdoor banners, spaces dedicated to temporary outdoor exhibits, residential outdoor spaces managed by University Housing and Dining including but not limited to Soules College of Business, Fisch College of Pharmacy.
8. "Patriot Plaza" includes the grass and paved area outside the main entrance to the University Center and next to Riter Plaza.
9. "Riter Plaza" includes the Carillon/Bell Tower, surrounding landscaped and paved sidewalk areas.
10. "Room or space" includes any room or space, indoors or outdoors, owned or controlled by the University.
11. "Spence Plaza" includes the paved area outside the main entrance to the Cowan Center and areas surrounding the fountain.
12. "University" means The University of Texas at Tyler.
13. "Weekday" means Monday through Friday except for official University holidays, skeleton crew days, or any days the university must close due to events that interfere with the ability of the university to continue normal operations, including but not limited to natural disasters, epidemics, attacks on infrastructure, etc.

Sec. 6-103. Freedom of Speech, Expression, and Assembly

a. The freedoms of speech, expression, and assembly are fundamental rights of all persons and are central to the mission of the University. Students, faculty, and staff have the right to assemble, to speak, and to attempt to attract the attention of others, and corresponding rights to hear the speech of others when they choose to listen, and to ignore the speech of others when they choose not to listen.

b. Students, faculty, and staff are free to express their views, individually or in organized groups, orally or in writing or by other symbols, on any topic, in all parts of the campus, subject only to rules necessary to preserve the equal rights of others and the other functions of the University. Teaching, research, and other official functions of the University shall have priority in allocating the use of space on campus.

c. In furtherance of the University's educational mission, the University buildings including their outside surface, surfaces associated with or connected to a University building, or a University structure are limited public forums open only to the expressive activities of faculty, staff and students as set forth in this chapter. Student, faculty and staff organizations may not invite the public at large to events in University buildings, facilities or locations that are not a common outdoor area.

d. Except as expressly authorized by subchapter 6-200, the University shall not discriminate on the basis of, including but not limited to, race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, disability, citizenship, veteran status, political, philosophical, ideological, or academic viewpoint expressed by any person, either in the enforcement and administration of these rules or otherwise.

e. The University of Texas at Tyler Police Department (UTTPD) may immediately enforce these rules if a violation of these rules constitutes a breach of the peace or compromises public safety. Any registered student group that engages in violence, incitement of imminent violation of law, harassment, property damage, disruption of a university activity, or any other violation of state or federal law or university policy because of antisemitism or bias or prejudice against a group identified by race, color, disability, religion, national origin or ancestry, age, gender, or sexual preference, is subject to discipline, up to and including possible loss of recognized status for the registered student group.

Sec. 6-104. Scope of this Chapter and Related Provisions

a. This chapter protects and regulates speech, expression, and assembly of students, faculty members, staff members, and members of the public that are not part of the teaching, research, or other official functions of the University, not otherwise sponsored by the University or any academic or administrative unit, and not submitted for academic credit.

b. This chapter also regulates certain speech that is part of the teaching, research, or other official functions of the University:

1. Section 6-204 on harassment applies to all speech on campus or otherwise actionable by the university.
2. This chapter applies to speech by University persons and University organizations in the common outdoor areas and the limited public forums. It also applies to speech that is submitted for academic credit, and speech made using the University's resources as determined by the director. The director and/or designee approves reservations for the use of the temporary exhibit and banner spaces, and use of University tables, for all University persons and organizations because scheduling through a single office is necessary to avoid conflicts. The director also administers and schedules reservations in the common outdoor areas and the use of the amplified sound for all University persons, and University organizations and

c. Any program or event sponsored by an academic or administrative unit of the University shall have priority in the use of space and facilities over any speech, expression, and assembly that is not sponsored by an academic or administrative unit, except that programs or events sponsored by an academic or administrative unit shall not have priority in the use of weekday amplified sound areas defined in section 6-802. This chapter does not limit other existing authority of University officials to authorize programs and events sponsored by an academic or administrative unit and not provided for in this chapter.

d. Additional rules concerning free speech and academic freedom of faculty are found in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 40501).

e. Underlying rules concerning free speech of students are found in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 40501). This chapter implements those provisions and applies them to the University.

f. Rules restricting access to the campus and restricting speech on the campus by persons who are not students, faculty, or staff are found in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 40501).

g. Rules protecting and regulating speech on University computer networks are promulgated by Information Resources and are currently found in IR Policies, Information Resources Acceptable Use Policy.

h. Rules requiring University employees to make clear that controversial statements are in their personal capacity are found in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 30103). Rules restricting use of University equipment, supplies, services, and working hours for political activities are found in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 30103).

Subchapter 6-200. Prohibited Expression

Sec. 6-201. Obscenity

a. No person or organization shall distribute or display on the campus any writing or visual image, or engage in any public performance, that is obscene. A writing, image, or performance is "obscene" if it is obscene as defined in Texas Penal Code, Section 43.21 or successor provisions and is within the constitutional definition of obscenity as set forth in decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

Sec. 6-202. Defamation

a. No person shall make, distribute, or display on the campus any statement that unlawfully defames any other person.

b. A statement unlawfully defames another person if it is false, if the false portion of the statement injures the reputation of the other person, or otherwise defamatory under applicable law.

Sec. 6-203. Incitement to Imminent Violations of Law

a. No person shall make, distribute, or display on the campus any statements directed to inciting or producing imminent violations of law under circumstances such that the statements are likely to actually and imminently incite or produce violations of law. Any incitement of violence, incitement of imminent violation of law, harassment, property damage, disruption of a university activity, or any other violation of state or federal law or university policy that was committed because of antisemitism or the offender's bias or prejudice against a group identified by race, color, disability, religion, national origin or ancestry, age, gender, or sexual preference will be subject to discipline, up to and including possible termination/expulsion.

Sec. 6-204. Harassment

a. No person shall make, distribute, or display on the campus any statement that constitutes verbal harassment of any other person. This section applies to all speech on the campus or otherwise actionable by the university, including speech that is part of teaching, research, or other official functions of the University.

b. "Verbal harassment" means hostile or offensive speech, oral, written, or symbolic, that

1. personally describes or is personally directed to one or more specific individuals; and
2. is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent to create an objectively hostile environment that interferes with or diminishes the victim's ability to participate in or benefit from the services, activities, or privileges provided by the University; and
3. is not necessary to the expression of any idea described in item c. of this subsection.

c. To make an argument for or against the substance of any political, religious, philosophical, ideological, or academic idea is not verbal harassment, even if some listeners are offended by the argument or idea. The categories of sexually harassing speech set forth in Series 200 of the Handbook of Operating Procedures are rarely, if ever, necessary to argue for or against the substance of any political, religious, philosophical, ideological, or academic idea.

d. Verbal harassment may consist of threats, insults, epithets, ridicule, personal attacks, or the categories of harassing sexual speech set forth in Series 200 of the Handbook of Operating Procedures, and is often based on the victim's appearance, personal characteristics, or group membership, including but not limited to race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, disability, citizenship, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, ideology, political views, or political affiliation.

e. Harassment can also consist of nonverbal conduct, such as hazing, practical jokes, damage to property, and physical assault. In the case of sexual harassment and sexual misconduct, sexual conduct is often central to the offense. These forms of harassment are prohibited in sections 2.4.1, and 2.4.3, of the Handbook of Operating Procedures, and in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 30105). For enhanced penalties for disciplinary offenses motivated by the race, color, or national origin of a student harmed by the offense, see MOPP chapter 8, section 8-501(b). To the extent of any conflict in the definition of verbal harassment, the more detailed definition in this section controls. For enhanced penalties for disciplinary offenses related to hazing, see MOPP chapter 8, section 8-804(a).

f. The harassment that this section prohibits does not exhaust the category of speech that is unnecessary and inappropriate to vigorous debate in a diverse community of educated people. An essential part of higher education is to learn to separate substantive argument from personal offense, and to express even the deepest disagreements within standards of civility that reflect mutual respect, understanding, and sensitivity among the diverse population within the University and in the larger society. These are community norms, even though they cannot be enforced by disciplinary rules.

g. Verbal harassment has been interpreted very narrowly by the federal courts. Many university policies on verbal harassment or hate speech have been held unconstitutional, either because they prohibited harassment only when it was based on race, sex, and similar categories, or because they failed to protect the expression of potentially offensive ideas. This policy should be interpreted as narrowly as need be to preserve its constitutionality. Members of the University community are required to report harassment.

1. A student who believes he or she has been harassed should report the alleged violation to the chief student success officer.
2. A faculty member or staff member who believes he or she has been harassed should report the alleged violation to the complainant's supervisor or to the Office of Human Resources.
3. Alternatively, any person who believes he or she has been harassed may report the alleged violation to the Office of Human Resources or to any University official, administrator, or supervisor. A faculty member is not an "official, administrator, or supervisor" for this purpose unless that faculty member holds an administrative position.

4. Any University official, administrator, or supervisor who receives a report of alleged harassment shall promptly refer that report and the complainant to the Office of Human Resources, or to the chief student success officer, as appropriate. A complainant, whose report is not forwarded to the Office of Human Resources, or to the chief student success officer, has not initiated proceedings for providing a remedy to the complainant or for imposing discipline on the alleged harasser.
5. Investigation of the information provided, and any remedial or disciplinary proceedings, shall proceed under the procedures set out in the harassment policies cross referenced in section 6-204(e).

Sec. 6-205. Solicitation

a. No person shall make, distribute, or display on the campus any statement that offers or advertises any product or service for sale or lease, or requests any gift or contribution, except as authorized in paragraph (b), by section 6-403, or by the Regents' Rules and Regulations.

1. Words or symbols on personal apparel, or on decals or bumper stickers affixed to a vehicle by an owner of that vehicle, are not solicitation within this definition.
2. Unadorned acknowledgments or thanks to donors are not solicitation within this definition.

b. A registered student, faculty, or staff organization may advertise or sell merchandise, publications, food, or nonalcoholic beverages, or request contributions, for the benefit of the organization, for the benefit of another registered student, faculty, staff organization, or for the benefit of an organization that is tax-exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. No organization may sell items obtained on consignment. No organization may request contributions for an off-campus tax-exempt organization for more than fourteen days in any fiscal year.

c. Registered student, faculty, and staff organizations, and academic and administrative units, may sell, distribute, or display literature that contains advertising, subject to the limits in section 6-403. Individual students, faculty members, and staff members may distribute or display such literature, but may not sell it.

d. Individual students, faculty members, and staff members may post advertisements for roommates, subleases, and sales of used goods that the seller has personally owned and used, but only on a bulletin board or other location designated for that purpose by an academic or administrative unit in space that the unit occupies or controls. Any unit that designates a bulletin board or other location for this purpose may regulate that bulletin board or other location under the procedures set forth in section 6-506.

1. A resident of a University residence hall or apartment building may occasionally invite one or more salespersons to come to the resident's room or apartment and in that room or apartment, the salesperson may offer products or services for sale to other residents of that residence hall or apartment building.

e. A registered student, faculty, or staff organization may collect admission fees for programs scheduled in advance under MOPP chapter 7; provided, that neither University persons nor organizations may collect admissions fees for the exhibition of movies on the campus.

f. A registered student, faculty, or staff organization may collect membership fees or dues at meetings of the organization scheduled in advance under MOPP chapter 7.

g. Registered students, faculty, or staff organizations may sell charitable raffle tickets on behalf of an organization that is authorized to conduct a charitable raffle under the Texas Charitable Raffle Enabling Act, Texas Occupations Code, chapter 2002, or successor provisions.

h. A registered student organization that receives funds from solicitations under this section shall deposit and account for such funds under the rules in MOPP chapter 2, subchapter 2.7. More detailed regulations of solicitation appear in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 80103). The provisions most relevant to students, faculty, and staff have been incorporated here.

Sec. 6-206 Finals Week

a. During the last two weeks of a semester or term, the following expressive activities are prohibited:

1. Activities that materially and substantially disrupt the functions of the institution are prohibited in common outdoor areas;
2. Inviting speakers to speak on campus;
3. Amplified sound including the use of drums or other percussive instruments.

Sec. 6-207 Concealing Identity

a. All individuals participating in expressive activities are prohibited from wearing a disguise or other means of concealing a person's identity with the intent to:

1. Obstruct the enforcement of the institution's rules or the law by avoiding identification;
2. Intimidate others;
3. Interfere with an institution's employee or a peace officer's lawful performance of a duty.

b. All individuals participating in expressive activities are required to present proof of identity and status at the institution on request by a university official or peace officer.

Sec. 6-208 Flags

a. The use of the institution's flag poles for the use of expressive activities is prohibited. Lowering the flags of the United States, State of Texas, and the Institution for the intent to raise the flag of another nation, flag representing an organization, or a flag for a group of people is prohibited.

Sec. 6-209 Expressive Activity Time Limit

a. Engaging in expressive activities on campus between the hours of 10:00pm and 8:00am are prohibited.

Sec. 6-210 Camping

a. Expressive activities involving camping on university property is prohibited. For more information regarding camping visit HOP 7.19 Prohibition of Camping on University Property. This includes but not limited to erecting tents or other living accommodations on campus.

Sec 6-211 Members of the Public

a. Members of the public who are not affiliated with the institution are not permitted to participate in expressive activities unless individually invited by an administrative unit or student organization as part of an approved scheduled activity.

Subchapter 6-300. General Rules on Means of Expression

Sec. 6-301. Disruption

a. Except as expressly authorized in section 6-802, or by an authorized University official responsible for a program or event sponsored by an academic or administrative unit, no speech, expression, or assembly may be conducted in a way that disrupts or interferes with any

1. teaching, research, administration, or other authorized activities on the campus;
2. free and unimpeded flow of pedestrian and vehicular traffic on the campus; or
3. signs, tables, exhibits, public assemblies, distribution of literature, guest speakers, or use of amplified sound by another person or organization acting under the rules in this chapter.

b. The term "disruption" and its variants, as used in this rule, are distinct from and broader than the phrase "disruptive activities," as used in the Regents' Rules and Regulations (Rule 40502). This rule is concerned not only with deliberate disruption, but also with scheduling and coordination of events to manage or minimize the inevitable conflicts between legitimate events conducted in close proximity.

1. Except in the most extreme cases, interference and disruption are unavoidably contextual. Intentional physical interference with other persons is nearly always disruptive in any context. Interfering with traffic depends on the relation between the volume of traffic and the size of the passageway left open. Disruptive noise is the most contextual of all, because it depends on the activity being disrupted. Any distracting sound may disrupt a memorial service. Any sound sufficiently loud or persistent to make concentration difficult may disrupt a class or library. Occasional heckling in the speaker's pauses may not disrupt a political speech, but persistent heckling that prevents listeners from hearing the speaker does disrupt a political speech. These illustrations may be helpful, but none of them includes enough context to be taken as a rule. We cannot escape relying on the judgment and fairness of University authorities in particular cases. In this context where difficult enforcement judgments are unavoidable, it is especially important to remind administrators and law enforcement officials that their judgments should not be influenced by the viewpoint of those claiming disruption or of those allegedly disrupting.

c. Potentially disruptive events can often proceed without disruption if participants, administrators, and law enforcement officials cooperate to avoid disruption without stopping the event. In cases of marginal or unintentional disruption, administrators and law enforcement officials should clearly state what they consider disruptive and seek voluntary compliance before stopping the event or resorting to disciplinary charges or arrest.

Sec. 6-302. Damage to Property

a. No speech, expression, or assembly may be conducted in a way that damages or defaces property of the University or of any person who has not authorized the speaker to damage or defaces his or her property.

b. No person may damage, deface, or interfere with any sign, table, or exhibit posted or displayed by another person or organization acting under the rules in this chapter.

Sec. 6-303. Coercing Attention

a. No person may attempt to coerce, intimidate, or badger any other person into viewing, listening to, or accepting a copy of any communication.

b. No person may persist in requesting or demanding the attention of any other person after that other person has attempted to walk away or has clearly refused to attend to the speaker's communication.

Sec. 6-304. Co-sponsorship

a. Academic or administrative units with authority delegated from the president of the University may co-sponsor events with an off-campus person or organization.

b. Student Organizations with approval from the director may co-sponsor events with an off-campus person or organization.

c. An event is a prohibited co-sponsorship if an individual or a student, faculty, or staff organization

1. Depends on an off-campus person or organization for planning, staffing, or management of the event; or
2. Advertises the event as co-sponsored by an off-campus person or organization; or
3. Operates the event as agent of, or for the benefit of, an off-campus person or organization, except for solicitation of charitable contributions under the authority of section 6-205(b); or
4. Distributes any proceeds of the event to an off-campus person or organization, except for
 - a. the proceeds of charitable contributions solicited under the authority of section 6-205(b); or
 - b. payment of a fair market price for goods or services provided to the University person or organization; or
5. Reserves a room or space for the use of an off-campus person or organization; or
6. Engages in any other behavior that persuades the director that an off-campus person or organization is in fact responsible for the event, in full or in substantial part.

d. The following facts do not, in and of themselves, indicate a prohibited co-sponsorship:

1. That a University person or organization endorses an off-campus person or organization or its message;

2. That a University person or organization sells, distributes, or displays literature prepared by an off-campus person or organization or containing contact information for an off-campus person or organization;
3. That a University person or organization has purchased goods or services from an off-campus provider;
4. That a registered student, faculty, or staff organization has invited a guest speaker under subchapter 6-1000;
5. That a registered student, faculty, or staff organization has received financial contributions to support the event from an off-campus donor.

e. The purpose of this rule is to preserve the limited space on campus for the use of students, faculty, and staff, and the rule shall be interpreted to serve that purpose. It is not the purpose of this rule to prevent students, faculty, staff, or members of the public from exercising their right to associate with other persons or organizations holding views similar to their own.

Sec. 6-305. Other Rules with Incidental Effects on Speech

a. Other generally applicable or narrowly localized rules, written and unwritten, incidentally limit the time, place, and manner of speech, but are too numerous to compile or cross-reference here. For example, libraries typically have highly restrictive rules concerning noise; laboratories and rooms containing the electrical and mechanical infrastructure of the University typically have safety rules and rules excluding persons without specific business there; fire and safety codes prohibit the obstruction of exits and limit the constriction of hallways. Speech within classrooms is generally confined to the subject matter of the class; the right to attend a class at all is subject to registration and payment of tuition; individual professors may have rules of decorum in their classroom. These kinds of rules limit the right of students, faculty, and staff to enter and speak in the places to which these rules apply.

b. Reasonable and nondiscriminatory rules of this kind generally control the rights of free speech guaranteed in this chapter. But even these kinds of rules are subject to the constitutional right of free speech. Such rules must be viewpoint neutral. Such rules cannot regulate speech more restrictively than they regulate other activities that cause the problems to be avoided by the rule. Such rules should not restrict speech more than is reasonably necessary to serve their purpose. Such rules cannot ban unobtrusive forms of communication with no potential for disruption even in the specialized environment subject to the localized rule. Thus, for example, means of silent expression or protest confined to the speaker's immediate person, such as armbands, buttons, and t-shirts, are nearly always protected because they are rarely disruptive in any environment.

Subchapter 6-400. Distribution of Literature

Sec. 6-401. General Rule on Distribution of Literature

a. Registered student, faculty, and staff organizations, and academic and administrative units, may sell, distribute, or display literature on campus, subject to the rules in this subchapter and to the general rules in subchapters 6-200 and 6-300. Individual students, faculty members, and staff members may distribute or display literature but may not sell it. In either case, no advance permission is required. Invited members of the public may distribute literature but may not sell literature as part of an approved scheduled activity.

b. "Literature" means any printed material, including any newspaper, magazine, or other publication, and any leaflet, flyer, or other informal matter, that is produced in multiple copies for distribution to potential readers.

Sec. 6-402. Not-for-Profit Literature Only a. Except as expressly authorized by the Regents' Rules and Regulations or by contract with the University, no person or organization may sell, distribute, or display on campus any publication operated for profit. A registered student, faculty, or staff organization may sell publications operated for profit as part of a fund-raiser authorized by, and subject to the limits of, section 6-205(b)(1).

b. A publication is operated for profit if any part of the net earnings of the publication, or of its distribution, inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

Sec. 6-403. Limits on Advertising

a. Literature distributed on campus may contain the following advertising:

1. advertising for a registered student, faculty, or staff organization, or an academic or administrative unit;
2. advertising for an organization that is tax exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code;
3. paid advertising in a publication primarily devoted to promoting the views of a not-for-profit organization or to other bona fide editorial content distinct from the paid advertising; and
4. other advertising expressly authorized by the Regents' Rules and Regulations or by contract with the University.

b. All other advertising in literature distributed on campus is prohibited.

Sec. 6-405. Clean-up of Abandoned Literature

a. Any person or organization distributing literature on campus shall pick up all copies dropped on the ground in the area where the literature was distributed.

Subchapter 6-500. Signs and BannersSec. 6-501. General Rule on Signs

a. "Sign" means any method of displaying a visual message to others except that transferring possession of a copy of the message is distribution of literature and not a sign.

b. Subject to the rules in this subchapter and to the general rules in subchapters 6-200 and 6-300, a University person or organization may display a sign by holding or carrying it, by displaying it at a table (see subchapter 6-600), or by posting it on a kiosk, bulletin board, or other designated location. Signs may not be posted in any other location.

Sec. 6-502. Signs & Demonstrative Materials

a. Students, faculty, and staff may display a sign on campus by holding or carrying it by hand or otherwise attaching it to their person. Invited members of the public may display a sign by holding or carrying it by hand otherwise attaching it to their person as part of an approved scheduled activity. No advance permission is required. Signs on sticks or poles or otherwise attached to any device are prohibited.

b. Hand-held signs, hazard materials, and exhibits that create a hazard to other people are not permitted. Signs constructed of rigid materials, including sticks, poles, wood, metal, hard plastic, or other materials that could be construed as a hazard are not permitted.

c. Any person holding or carrying a sign shall exercise due care to avoid bumping, hitting, or injuring any other person.

d. Any person holding or carrying a sign at a speech, performance, or other event shall exercise due care to avoid blocking the view of any other person observing the speech, performance, or event. Depending on the venue, this may mean that signs may be displayed only around the perimeter of a room or an audience.

e. A law enforcement officer or the chief student success officer, or an usher or other University employee if authorized by officials responsible for managing the venue, may warn any person that his or her sign is being handled in violation of paragraphs (b) -(d). If the violation persists after a clear warning, the law enforcement officer, chief student success officer, authorized usher, or other authorized employee may confiscate the sign. A law enforcement officer may take any action necessary to keep the peace including but not limited to issuing a criminal trespass warning to the violator.

Sec. 6-503. Signs on Kiosks

- a. A kiosk is an outdoor structure, attached to the ground in a fixed location, designed for the posting of signs.
- b. University persons and organizations may post signs on kiosks. No advance permission is required. Individuals may not post on kiosks any sign advertising goods or services for sale (see section 6-205).
- c.. Each sign posted on a kiosk must identify the University person or organization that posted the sign and must state the date the sign was posted or the date of the event being advertised. No sign advertising an event may be posted on a kiosk more than fourteen days before the date of the event.
- d. The person or organization that posts a sign on a kiosk must remove that sign not later than fourteen days after it was posted, or twenty-four hours after the event it advertised, whichever is earlier.
- e. No sign may be posted on a kiosk on top of another properly posted sign.
- f. No person or organization may post more than two signs on the same kiosk at the same time.
- g. The director, or their designee, may remove any sign that violates any of the rules in this section.

Sec. 6-504. Banners

- a. "Banner" means a sign hung from a structure, or between two buildings, structures, or poles. Banners on sticks or poles or otherwise attached to any device are prohibited.
- b. The chief student success officer shall designate places where banners may be hung in indoor/outdoor locations not occupied or controlled by any other academic or administrative unit. Other academic and administrative units may designate one or more places where banners may be hung in indoor or outdoor locations that the unit occupies or controls.
 - 1. Academic and administrative units and registered student, faculty, and staff organizations may hang banners in locations designated by the chief student success officer. Individuals may not hang banners.
 - 2. Advance permission is required from the unit administering the location, and usually, advance reservations are required. Academic and administrative units advertising official University events or programs may be given priority. In locations administered by academic or administrative units other than the chief student success officer, organizations affiliated with the unit administering the location may be given priority.
