Introduction

This course examines the historical and contemporary efforts by racial and ethnic minorities to gain full inclusion as citizens in the U.S. political system. We will examine the various ways race and ethnicity affect our understanding in areas such as racial and ethnic identity, ideology, partisan identity, social movements, coalitions, the politics of race and ethnicity, and the Prison-Industrial-Complex. The goal is to assist students in a broad exploration of the influences of racial and ethnic characteristics on the American political system.

Course Objectives

1. Understand the historical complexities of race, ethnicity, and the political process in America.
2. Examine the dynamics of social movements and the oft-tenuous interactions of minority-coalitions.
3. Develop a critical lens of political institutions (and their relationship with race and ethnicity).
4. Gain insight on intersectionality, including the role women and queer people of color have played in advancing the cause of racial progress in America.

Additional Course Information

1. Attendance is extremely important. I will take attendance. You will receive an attendance score. It is not my favorite thing in the world to do, but it is a sure-fire means of keeping each student accountable. If you will be (or were) absent for any legitimate reason, please contact me prior to missing class. I'm fairly lenient about a few missed classes if you keep me in the loop.
2. Your grade in this course will be determined by attendance, participation assignment, short research papers, as well as a midterm and final exam (not cumulative).
Grade

Attendance – 10%
Research Papers – 20%
Midterm Exam – 20%
Final Exam – 30%
Participation Assignment – 20%

Research Paper Assignment

Each student will be responsible for writing one (1) research essay chosen from a list of topics (see below) related to racial and ethnic politics. In 10-15 pages (standard formatting), explain: 1) the problem (why the topic is considered politically contentious), 2) how the topic relates to racial/ethnic identity and experience in America, 3) the current state of the issue (in terms of how we discuss it politically), and 4) whether there are any policy solutions being introduced by activists and political leaders. This assignment is worth 20% of the total course grade.

Your paper must be submitted by 11:59PM on Sunday, April 21, 2019.

List of Topics

1. Gun Control
2. Reproductive Rights
3. Marijuana Legalization
4. Raising the Minimum Wage
5. Criminal Justice Reform
6. Arming Educators
7. Criminal Voting Rights
8. Charter Schools
9. Electoral College
10. Gender Identity

Polling Participation Assignment

This assignment reflects a service learning activity to create real-world experience in the application of social science research and the skills you will be able to provide upon graduation. As part of this class you will be trained to conduct telephone surveys by entering detailed information from each respondent into Computer Assisted Telephone Interview (CATI) software. You will be trained on how to conduct surveys in-person in the Polling Lab and be led by survey professionals and faculty.

My goal will be to teach you the nuts and bolts of conducting a statewide survey and what to be mindful of as you ask questions to a respondent. You will see how details are collected and then compiled into a larger database to include the research of you and your peers.

The training will be complete upon passage of a Canvas-based proficiency quiz.

The poll you will assist in conducting will be in the field for two weeks, with the Polling Lab open for operation in the evenings between 5pm and 8:30pm on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, as well as a block of time from 1pm to 5pm on Saturdays and Sundays. You will be able to select shifts to work at one of the 20 stations during that time.

- Your participation will be assessed based on the hours you work (minimum 4 hours). The quality of your participation will reflect a ratio of the quality of your participation that reflects the number of calls made and the number of calls successfully completed. You will also be evaluated through observation of how clearly you communicate with respondents and complete the assigned tasks.

- You will also be asked to journal (maximum of one page) your experiences, offering a daily reflection on the similarities and differences of respondent attitudes recorded during the surveys you completed. What combinations of views were unexpected? What is your assessment of the political knowledge of respondents you spoke with? What messages from the media or campaigns are being reflected back in the answers of the individuals you spoke with?

Upon submission of this daily journal of your polling experience add an introduction of the main themes you recognized and a conclusion about the value of these reflections as evidence of the larger themes you recognized. In your conclusion, you may also want to add reflections about topics respondents wanted to talk about beyond the survey and offer advice on how the next survey could address those concerns.

Midterm Exam

This exam will be held on Tuesday, March 5, 2019. It will cover course material from January 15 – February 26.

Final Exam

This exam will be held on Tuesday, April 30, 2018. It will cover course material from March 19 – April 23, 2019.

Note - If you miss an exam, you must have one of the following: A) a note from a doctor proving you were too ill on the day of the exam to take it. Be aware that receipts from the Student Health Center are not sufficient documentation of a serious illness; or B) a copy of an obituary, in the unfortunate case you have to attend a funeral; C) proof of extremely prohibitive circumstances (such as being in an auto accident on the way to campus or a family emergency). The make-up exam you take will be different from the exam taken by the rest of the class and may include essay questions. No other excuses will be accepted for a missed exam. If an exam is missed, the student will receive a grade of zero.

Grade Assignment

Below 60 = F
60 and less than 70 = D
70 and less than 80 = C
80 and less than 90 = B
90 and less than 100 = A
Class Disruptions

Repeated talking, texting, or surfing the web on laptops is not acceptable in this class. These actions are distracting. Such disruptions harm the learning environment. Incidents of texting, talking, or surfing the web in class will result in a discussion between the instructor and the student(s) involved. Believe you me, it just ain’t worth the hassle, you can Instagram after class.

Family Friendly Policy

Currently, the university does not have a formal policy on children in the classroom. The policy described here is thus, a reflection of my own beliefs and commitments to student, staff and faculty parents.

- All exclusively breastfeeding babies are welcome in class as often as is necessary to support the breastfeeding relationship. Because not all women can pump sufficient milk, and not all babies will take a bottle reliably, I never want students to feel like they have to choose between feeding their baby and continuing their education. You and your nursing baby are welcome in class anytime.

- For older children and babies, I understand that minor illnesses and unforeseen disruptions in childcare often put parents in the position of having to choose between missing classes to stay home with a child and leaving him or her with someone you or the child does not feel comfortable with. While this is not meant to be a long-term childcare solution, occasionally bringing a child to class in order to cover gaps in care is perfectly acceptable.

- I ask that all students work with me to create a welcoming environment that is respectful of all forms of diversity, including diversity in parenting status.

- In all cases where babies and children come to class, I ask that you sit close to the door so that if your little one needs special attention and is disrupting learning for other students, you may step outside until their need has been met. Non-parents in the class, please reserve seats near the door for your parenting classmates.

Finally, I understand that often the largest barrier to completing your coursework once you become a parent is the tiredness many parents feel in the evening once children have finally gone to sleep. The struggles of balancing school, childcare and often another job are exhausting! I hope that you will feel comfortable disclosing your student-parent status to me. This is the first step in my being able to accommodate any special needs that arise. While I maintain the same high expectations for all student in my classes regardless of parenting status, I am happy to problem solve with you in a way that makes you feel supported as you strive for school-parenting balance. Thank you for the diversity you bring to our classroom!

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies
Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. (For Fall, the Census Date is Sept. 12.) Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar. Each semester’s Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar. Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date (Sept. 12th) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a “W” grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid State-Mandated Course

Drop Policy
Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date). Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class.
