About our Program

Human Resource Development (HRD) is the field concentrated with creating a satisfying, productive work environment for your employees and organization.

Human Resource Development programs typically include instruction in team building, human relations, human resource management, training, selecting, and recruiting, workforce and organizational development compensation, and fundamentals of management.

Possible career paths in public or private industry include:

- HR coordination and supervisory roles

- Trainer

- Training and Change Consultant

- Development and Change Consultant

- Talent Development Consultant