Course Catalog Description: Theory and methods of instruction in adult and continuing education to include learning principles, curriculum organization, evaluation techniques and effective classroom interaction.

Course Description: This course is a three-hour graduate course concerning the theories and practices of adult learning and continuing education. Concepts, models, theories, and research in the field of adult learning will be addressed, with an emphasis on practical application of adult learning principles. Course participants will be asked to evaluate their own adult learning experiences within this framework of theory and practice.

All work will be performed online. Participants will read assigned materials, engage in personal and online dialogue, and perform research. Products of this course will include a written report on a personal learning project, a personal reflections paper, a journal, and documentation of dialogue.

Course Goals and Objectives:

This course will emphasize theory, research, and practice in the field of adult learning. Participants will have the opportunity to apply concepts and models through personal learning experiences. Upon the completion of this course, participants should be able to:

- Articulate the fundamental issues and concepts of adult learning and adult education.
- Assess personal knowledge and experiences in relation to the broad overview of adult learning through the use of a personal journal, observation of adult learning events, and participation in a personal learning project.
- Integrate personal experiences into a framework of theory and practice.
- Articulate the various aspects of context in which adult learning is conducted.
- Differentiate, critique, and apply various models and theories of adult learning.
- Articulate the physical aspects of adult learning, including individual characteristics, cognitive abilities, memory, intelligence, and aging.
- Review and reflect upon research literature in the field of adult learning.
- Experience adult learning through the online environment, using learning activities, discussions, etc.

- Analyze and articulate the differences and similarities of various learning environments and tools in the academic and practice spheres.
- Discuss ethical issues in the design and application of adult education.
- Identify at least five practical applications of adult learning theory to adult learning practice.
- Increase skills in research, writing, and critical thinking.

Course Structure:

This course is conducted entirely online using the Canvas learning management system. Participants will have reading, discussion, and writing assignments weekly. Discussion and written assignments are made with the assumption that required reading assignments are completed prior to addressing assignments.

Participants should expect to spend as much time on an online course as on a face-to-face course, estimated at six to ten hours per week. The actual amount of time will vary from individual to individual. This estimate includes the time spent in reading, discussions, and assignments.

All course materials, except exams and certain other assignments, will be available from the start of the course to the end. Students may look and study ahead, or go back and review, at any time during the course. Discussions will have specific beginning and ending dates, but will be available for review.

The facilitator reserves the right to administer “surprise quizzes” that will count toward all or a portion of the class participation grade if it is determined that participants are not reading the text and supplemental readings and are not adequately prepared to engage with each other, the facilitator, and the overall community.

Reading Assignments: Each participant is responsible for completing the reading assignments in a timely manner. Deadlines are listed in the Course Schedule.

Discussion Assignments: Each participant is responsible for engaging in the asynchronous discussions each week. This participation will include posting answers to questions posed by the facilitator and replying to other participants’ postings. Quality of answers is as important as quantity. A participant’s comments should add to the discussion. Comments should be supported, as required, with references cited appropriately.

Participants should plan on entering Canvas and the discussion area regularly during the week (not just on weekends) in order to read and comment on others’ postings. Posting answers to the questions posed in the discussion area should be done two days before the deadline in order to allow other participants the opportunity to comment.

Comments should be posted directly into the appropriate discussion forum. It is recommended that comments be composed in text software and copied into Canvas to prevent any loss due to power failures/glitches in Canvas, etc. Do not attach a document with comments into a discussion forum. This method is difficult for some students to access.

Participants may have special issues and responsibilities that impact weekly participation at times. However, consistent and sustained participation is expected. Lack of preparation and engagement and lack of relevant, timely, and quality postings will affect the grade earned for course participation, and will affect the final course grade.

Discussion postings should be made in a timely manner. Deadlines are listed in the Course Schedule. Please note that all discussion postings must be completed by midnight Central Standard Time on the due date. Excused absences for religious holy days or active military services are permitted according to the policies outlined in the UT Tyler Graduate Handbook.

Written Assignments: All written assignments are to be completed in Microsoft Word or text software recognized by Word, and submitted in a timely manner. Deadlines are listed in the Course Schedule. Please note that all written assignments must be submitted by Midnight Central Standard Time on the due date. Late assignments will receive point reductions (see Grades & Grading).

Please name all submitted documents as follows:

Last Name First Initial Assignment Title.

All written assignments should be submitted through the links provided in Canvas, and in word documents. A secondary option for submitting assignments is through UTTyler email.

All written assignments do go through plagiarism detection programs. Plagiarism is a serious academic offense. Please avoid the consequences of academic dishonesty by citing all sources used. Academic dishonesty, such as unauthorized collusion, plagiarism and cheating, as outlined in the Handbook of Operating Procedures, University of Texas at Tyler, will not be tolerated. University regulations require the instructor to report all suspected cases of academic dishonesty to the Dean of Students for disciplinary action. In the event disciplinary measures are imposed on the student, it becomes part of the student's official school records. Also, please note that the handbook obligates participants to report all observed cases of academic dishonesty to the instructor.

Grades and Grading

A - 90-100

B - 80-89

C - 70-79
D - 60-69
F - Below 60

Grading components are assigned weights based upon the work required of the participant and the importance to the course. The work performed for this course is weighted as follows:

25% - Personal Reflections Paper
25% - Personal Journal
25% - Active Class Participation
25% - Adult Learning Analysis Assignment

Course Assignments

Assignments are due on the date scheduled. Participants should notify the facilitator as soon as possible of special circumstances that could interfere with the timely completion of assignments. Late papers and projects will not be accepted without prior approval and late papers will be subject to a reduction in letter grade. Even with prior approval, the facilitator reserves the right to lower grades in accordance with the tardiness of submitted late assignments.

Personal Reflections Paper (25% of Final Grade)

The reflections paper serves as the synthesis and culmination of the course for participants. Participants will select three significant adult learning concepts that have impacted their adult learning and document and reflect upon their understandings of course concepts and content about adult learning. Participants will discuss how personal experiences have impacted their adult learning, as well as how knowledge of these three concepts can be useful for the future design and implementation of personal and professional learning experiences.

All written assignments must be prepared using Word or text software recognized by Word. The final paper should be formatted using APA 7th edition standards, with a length of 8-10 pages (exclusive of title page, references pages, and appendices). Due date: November 26 2023 by midnight Central Standard Time.

Journal (25% of Final Grade)

The journal serves to document the accumulation of ideas, concepts, feelings, and responses to the materials presented during the course, with the intent that the journal will provide the material for the final Personal Reflections Paper.

At the beginning of the course, each participant will write Journal Entry #1 that reflects current thoughts, experiences, and expectations for this course. Then, for each chapter, addressed in the course, participants will make notes of important points and thoughts. Chapters will be bundled into two units for submission during the course.

Journal entries should be one to two (1-2) pages in length per entry. All written assignments must be prepared using Word or text software recognized by Word. This is an informal document: complete sentences, APA 7th standards, and complete outlines of the chapters are not required.

Journal entries will be prepared weekly, but submitted periodically, see the weekly course schedule on page 12.

Active Class Participation (25% of final grade)

Dialogue is a very important part of any formal university learning. Active class participation requires participants to be involved in the course on a regular basis. This includes introductions, responses to all topic questions, feedback to other participants, and willingness to ask questions and to assist others with learning activities.

Discussions will occur for each chapter on a weekly basis, beginning on Mondays and ending on Sundays.

For maximum points in each general discussion forum, participants must respond with their answer to questions/comments posed, and respond to the postings of at least two (2) other participants.

Adult Learning Project Analysis Paper (25% of Final Grade)

This assignment provides participants with an opportunity to study and evaluate their own adult learning activities in conjunction with the adult learning models and theories addressed in this course. Each participant will agree to learn something new, document the results of his or her learning activities, and then prepare a written analysis.

The assignment will consist of two parts: the submission of a learning project proposal for approval and the analysis paper. The learning project proposal outlining the desired topic and anticipated activities is due Sept 10, 2023 by midnight Central Standard Time

The written analysis of the project will include: 1) a compare/contrast discussion of the individual learning experience with a selected model or theory of adult learning; 2) a discussion of the strengths and/or weaknesses in the learning experience relative to the specific model/theory that was selected for comparison purposes; and 3) a discussion of what improvements could be made to the individual process of learning. All facets of the learning experience (environment, facilitator, participant, content) should be addressed. Evidence of attendance should be provided in an appendix to the paper.

All written assignments must be prepared using Word or text software recognized by Word. The paper should be formatted using APA 7th edition standards, with a length of 6-10 pages (exclusive of title page, references pages, and appendices). Due date: Oct 29, 2023 by midnight Central Standard Time.

Grading Procedures

Written Assignments: Depending upon the size of the class, grading may take several days to a week to complete.

A letter grade will be deducted for each day an assignment is late.

Papers will be evaluated based upon the following criteria:

1. Inclusion of all required content;
2. Clarity of expression on the topic;
3. Selection and expression of relevant ideas, concepts, and information;
4. Quality of the support of evidence for statements included.

Discussion Assignments: Discussion assignments consist of two parts: responding to the discussion prompt as provided by the facilitator (half of the maximum points of the discussion) and then responding to at least two (2) other participants' comments made in that discussion (half of the maximum points of the discussion).

The following rubric will be used at the end of the course to evaluate overall Discussion postings, and allocate facilitator's evaluation points.

Students Rights and Responsibilities

- Withdrawing from Class - Students you are allowed to withdraw \(Links to an external site.\) (drop) from this course through the University's Withdrawal Portal \(Links to an external site.\). Texas law prohibits students who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at other 2-year or 4-year Texas public colleges and universities. Make sure to consider the impact withdrawing from this class has on your academic progress as well as the financial implications. We encourage you to consult your advisor(s) and financial aid for additional guidance. CAUTION #1: Withdrawing before census day does not mean you get a full refund. Please see the Tuition and Fee Refund Schedule \(Links to an external site.\). CAUTION #2: All international students must check with the Office of International Programs \(Links to an external site.\) before withdrawing. All international students are required to enroll full-time for fall and spring terms.

- Final Exam Policy: Final examinations are administered as scheduled. If unusual circumstances require that special arrangements be made for an individual student or class, the dean of the appropriate college, after consultation with the faculty member involved, may authorize an exception to the schedule. Faculty members are required to maintain student final examination papers for a minimum of three months following the examination date.

- Incomplete Grade Policy: If a student, because of extenuating circumstances, is unable to complete all of the requirements for a course by the end of the semester, then the instructor may recommend an Incomplete (I) for the course. The "I" may be assigned in lieu of a grade only when all of the following conditions are met: (a) the student has been making satisfactory progress in the course; (b) the student is unable to complete all course work or final exam due to unusual circumstances that are beyond personal control and are acceptable to the instructor; and (c) the student presents these reasons prior to the time that the final grade roster is due. The semester credit hours for an Incomplete will not be used to calculate the grade point average for a student.

The student and the instructor must submit an Incomplete Form detailing the work required and the time by which the work must be completed to their respective department chair or college dean for approval. The time limit established must not exceed one year. Should the student fail to complete all of the work for the course within the time limit, then the instructor may assign zeros to the unfinished work, compute the course average for the student, and assign the appropriate grade. If a grade has not been assigned within one year, then the Incomplete will be changed to an F, or to NC if the course was originally taken under the CR/NC grading basis.

- Grade Appeal Policy: - UT Tyler's Grade Appeal policy requires the completion of a Grade Appeal form for this action to take place. The grade appeal begins with the instructor of your course. If you do not agree with the decision of the instructor, you may then move your appeal to the department chair/school director for that course. If you are still dissatisfied with the decision of the chair/director, you may move the appeal to the Dean of the College offering that course who has the final decision. Grade appeals must be initiated within sixty (60) days from the date of receiving the final course grade. The Grade Appeal form is found on the Registrar's Form Library. (Links to an external site.)
